A LITTLE piece OF HISTORY

LEMOYNE COLLEGE 1996

Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2015

https://archive.org/details/thresher00unse_36

A Little Piece of History
Bethel College
Thresher 1996
Volume 70

RIGHT: The Mud People made a visit to Bethel College to see what ordinary students do when they are not in class. They were impressed! (photo by David Wilson)

BELOW: Participating in the campus radio station KBCU 88.1fm is one way students can spend all the FREE TIME they have when they are not in class or working on homework. (photo by David Wilson)

ABOVE: Kerry Saner took some time during Fall Fest to help out at the Drama Booth. (photo by David Wilson)

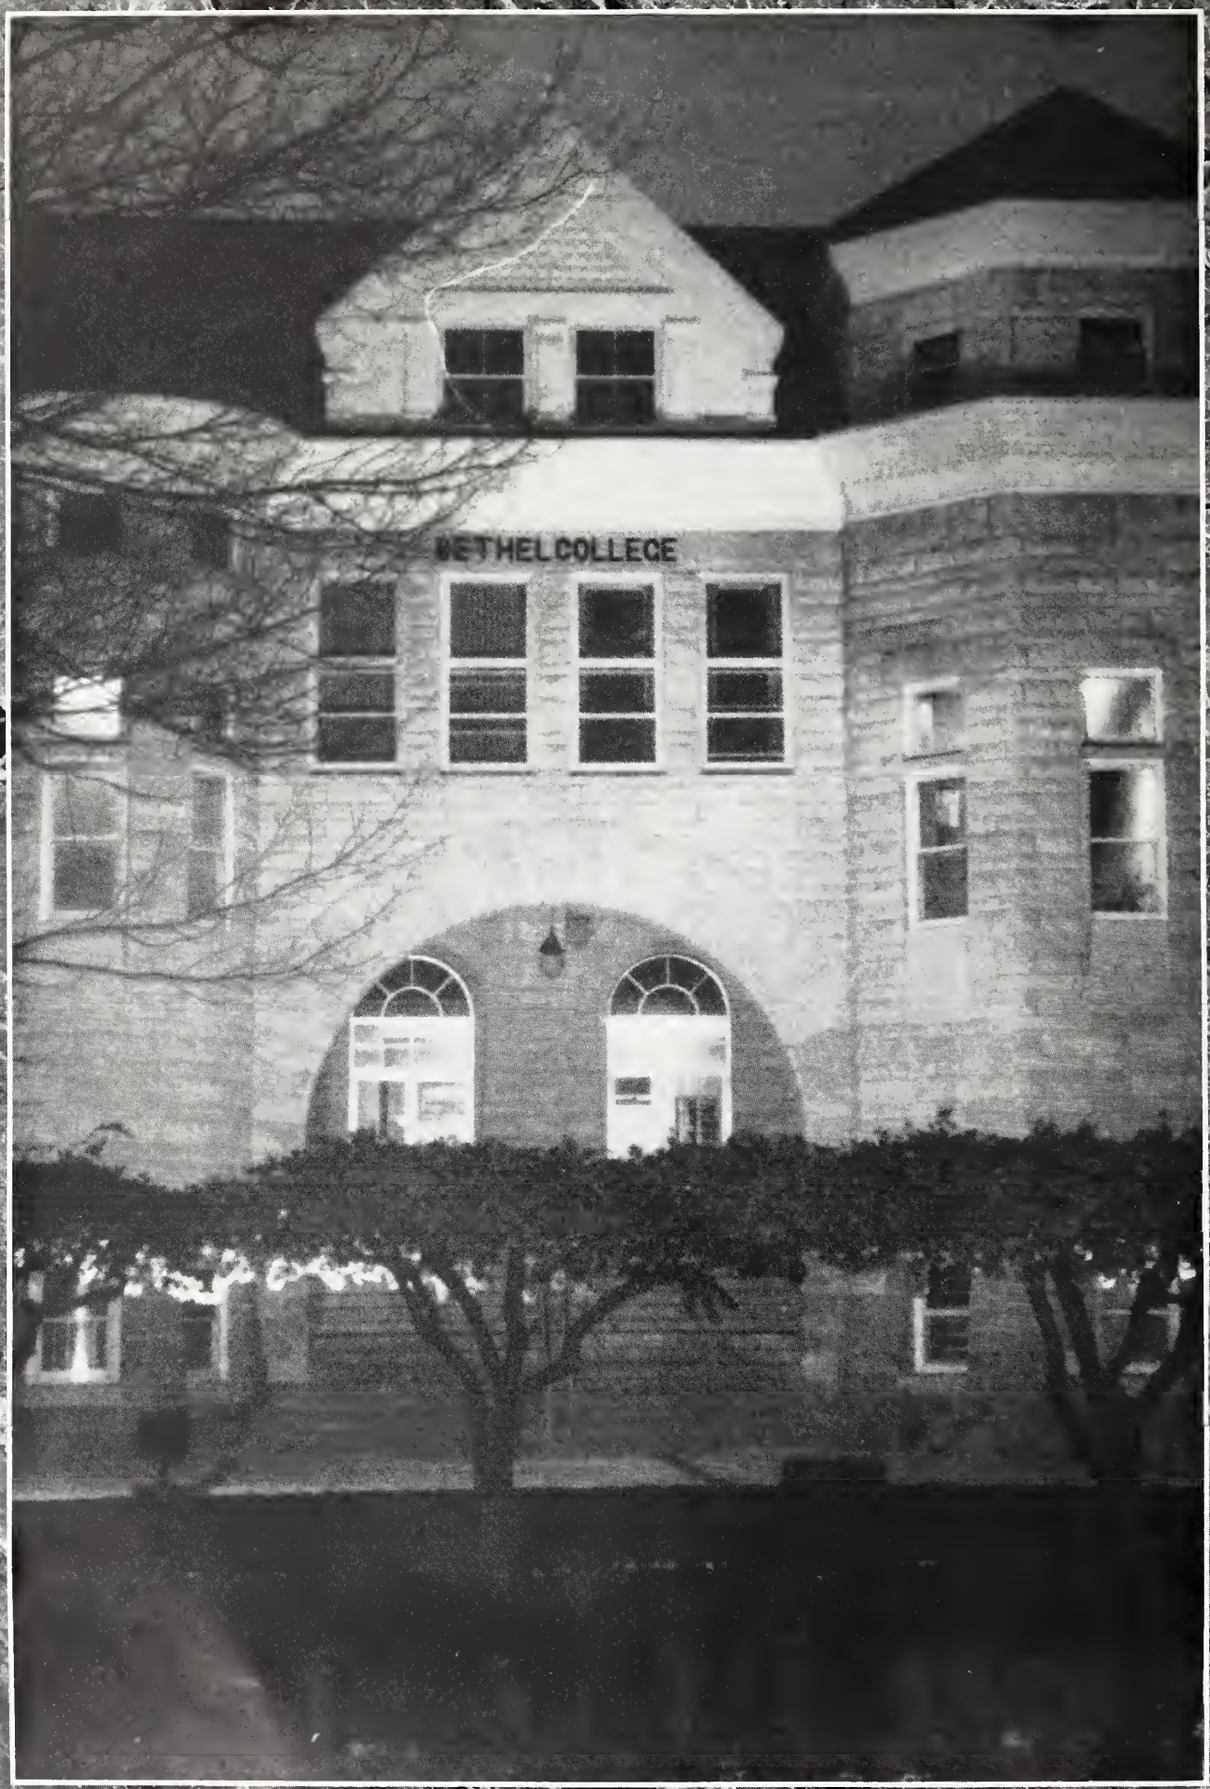
RIGHT: Class began with the ringing of the bell by President Penner, John Sheriff and Jennifer Reimchisel before the first Convo of the Year. (photo by David Wilson)

A New year!

This year started out with sweltering heat that turned Haury Hall and Goering Hall into on-campus ovens. We were all welcomed by a new president with the promise of great things to come in the year. We met up with our friends and we got to know people new to Bethel. New faces in the faculty and staff offered chances to see Bethel in a whole new light. The new year held promises of hope and history in the making.

ABOVE: One of the new faces this year appeared during Interterm. David Lusk took over for Paul lewis in the Psychology Department for the spring semester. (photo by David Wilson)

LEFT: It's Anything Goes. Say "CHEESE!" (photo by David Wilson)



BETHEL COLLEGE

AROUND CAMPUS

INAUGURATION 6

ANYTHING GOES 8

FALL FEST 10

ULTIMATE/BOWLING 14

CHRISTMAS 16

CRIME 20

80'S DANCE 22

FUN CYCLES 24

TAKE A BREAK 26

GRADUATION 28

A New President Begins at Bethel

RIGHT: President-elect Douglas Penner and his wife Raylene Hinz-Penner enter into the ceremony that marks the beginning of a new presidency at Bethel College. (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

ABOVE: John Sheriff, professor of English, speaks to the audience. (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

RIGHT: The Concert Choir performed at the inauguration of President Penner and showed the audience their beautiful harmony. (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

LEFT: President Penner is now the newest member of that elite group: THE PRESIDENTS OF BETHEL COLLEGE!!! (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

BELOW: Brian Wiebe leads the orchestra in more music to celebrate this glorious day. (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

LEFT: President Penner now speaks to the hopes and desires he has for the future of Bethel College (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

ABOVE: President Penner addressed the audience made up of students, faculty and staff, alumni, and community members. (photo courtesy of the Collegian)

Anything Goes

ABOVE: Twister was added to the Anything Goes games this year with great success!!! (photo by Danielle Friesen)

The kick-off to Fall Fest means fun for the students. Anything Goes is a time to compete in silly games and have loads of fun.

RIGHT: SAB members demonstrate many of the games so those competing will know what to do. (photo by Danielle Friesen)

LEFT: Jon Funk competes in the pudding slurp game in hopes of victory for the team. (photo by Danielle Friesen)

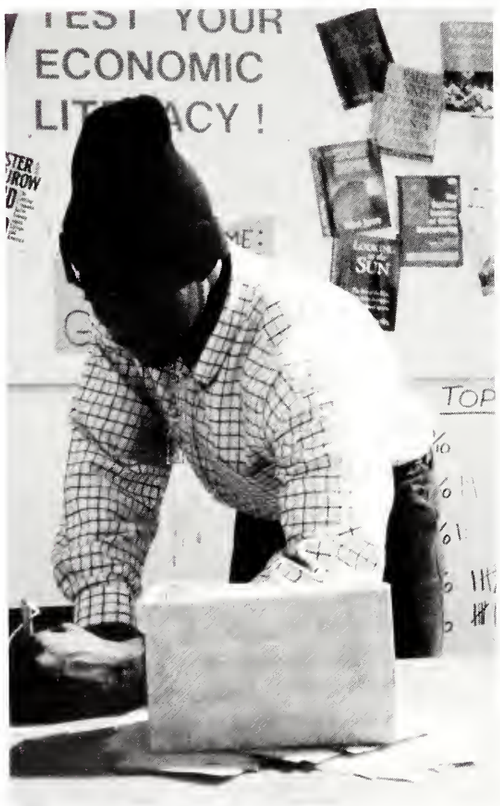
BELOW: One of the annual events at Anything Goes is the buddy water balloon popping between teammates (photo by Danielle Friesen)

ABOVE: Another team participates in the new event of playing Twister. It looks a little crowded in there. (photo by Danielle Friesen)

ABOVE: Bat spinning is another annual Anything Goes event which usually means many people falling down. (photo by Danielle Friesen)

RIGHT: Tim Buller does a final rinse of the tie-dyed shirts to be sold during Fall Fest at the Peace Club booth. (photo by Bonnie Bandaker)

BELOW: Bonnie Bandaker sets up the Peace Club booth on the Green during Fall Fest. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)



ABOVE: Edrick Sweeting (a.k.a. Bam Bam) grades a quiz on international business issues given at the Business and Economics booth. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

ABOVE: Maria Deckert enjoys this very messy carmel apple out on the Green. Many clubs and organizations enjoy huge success with the food they sell. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Fall Fest Tradition and Fun

A small piece of our history and tradition at Bethel

Every year people migrate from far away places as well as their residence halls to meet out on the green and share in the annual Fall Fest. It is a time when people meet up with old friends and become familiar with new people. It is a time to walk around and see all that the students and community have to share. It is a time to support our teams and one another.

ABOVE: Jennifer Reimschisel takes Zandra Guete's blood pressure to ensure she does not over do it during Fall Fest. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

LEFT: Kim Loewen gets to enjoy being a kid again with her very own balloon. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

RIGHT: Katie Chappell is dishing it out at Fall Fest. (photo by Bonnie Bandaker)

BELOW: Gretchen Kehrberg and friends are enjoying hanging out at the Peace Club booth. (photo by Bonnie Bandaker)

LEFT: Stairwell (Fred Hardyway, Kelsey Graber, Kelly Stucky, Allen Krehbiel) are always a hit when they appear at Fall Fest. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

ABOVE: Tammy Bowden and Tara Friesen serve up the cotton candy at the Rhythm Squad booth. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

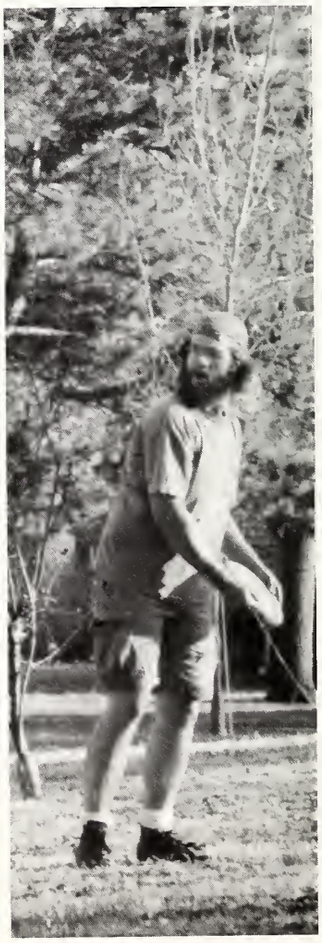
LEFT: A group of people playing the Scottish bagpipes were one of the many entertaining acts to see performing at Fall Fest. (photo by David Wilson)

Ultimate

RIGHT: They fly through the air with the greatest of ease, they are the Mighty Flying Ultimate Players!!! (photo by David Wilson)

BELOW: Just a hop, skip and a jump away is the "ultimate" touchdown. (photo by David Wilson)

ABOVE: Knocking it down, is the key to the game. (photo by David Wilson)



RIGHT: Aaron Krehbiel looks for his man. (photo by David Wilson)

Bowling for a Cause

Bowling for Kids' Sake

Bethel students help the Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization with their annual bowling tournament and fundraiser. This has become a tradition that many students participate in to help and to have a good time.

LEFT: Kim Loewen releases her bowling ball with the greatest of ease hoping for a strike (photo by David Wilson)

BELOW: Looking very serious, Alfredo Malcolm is now ready to join the pros in the national bowling circuit. (photo by David Wilson)

Christmas Fest

Christmas Banquet

This Annual event has become part of tradition at Bethel College. It is a time for the community and the college to come together to celebrate the meaning of Christmas and share our hopes for the new year. This history-making event will remain in our hearts long after we leave Bethel.

RIGHT: When driving into town in December, the Hospice Tree of Life is one of the noticeable decorations. This tree is a reminder to cherish the ones we love and the ones we have lost. (photo by David Wilson)

BELOW: Zebbie Robertson and Bobbi Payne decorate their mod by hanging their stockings. Are they hoping Santa will come visit their mod early? (photo by David Wilson)

ABOVE: Christmas was celebrated differently this year. The program was made up of musical performances instead of a production by the Drama department. (photo by David Wilson)

LEFT: These lovely ladies look "simply marvelous" in their outfits for Christmas Fest. Knock 'em dead! (photo courtesy of Cathy Schmidt)

A Little Piece of History

BE THE

Crime Hits Bethel

Vandelism

Haury Hall residents awoke one morning to find that their tires had been slashed during the night. The culprit was not discovered, but luckily Bethel College paid for all the slashed tires and there was no recurrence of this crime at Bethel.

SAAB

It's the 80s (Dance) at Bethel!!

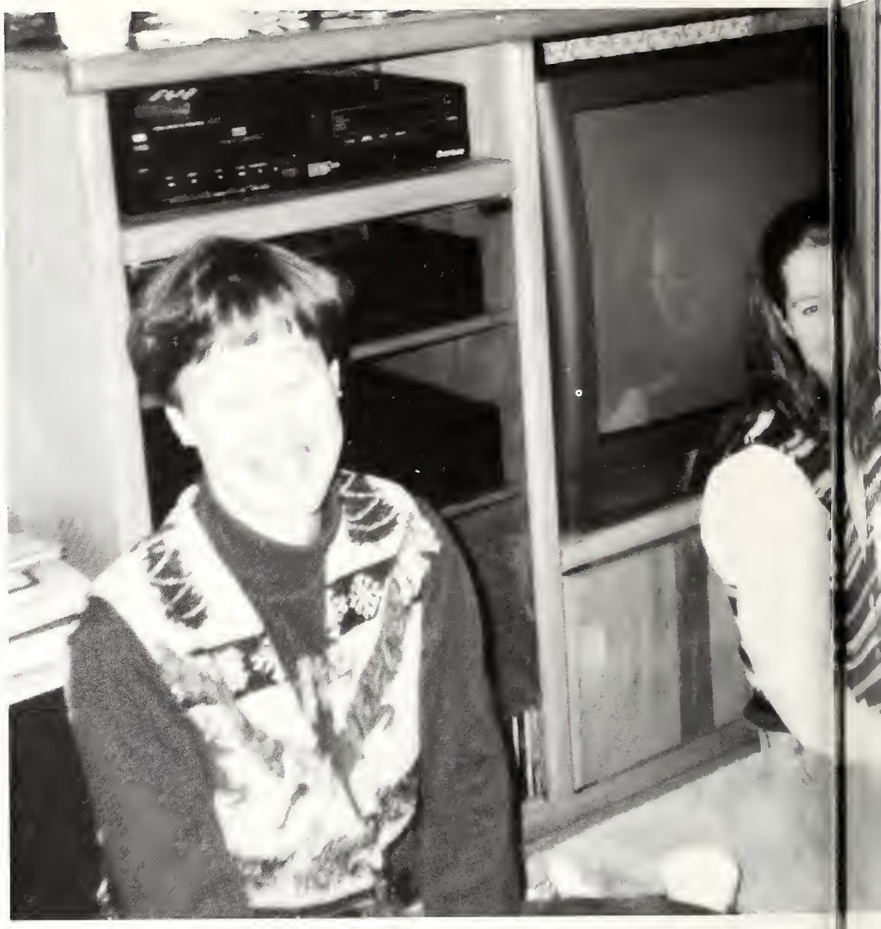
ABOVE: Dancin' the night away is Andrea Freeburne.

LEFT: Andrea Freeburne and Ed Minniger shake it up at the 80s dance.

Fun Cycles

Fun cycles are a welcome sight each Fall and Spring. Many students take a break from studying to spend a little time having fun riding around the campus. Below, Chad Siebert smiles for the camera. (Photo courtesy of the Collegian)

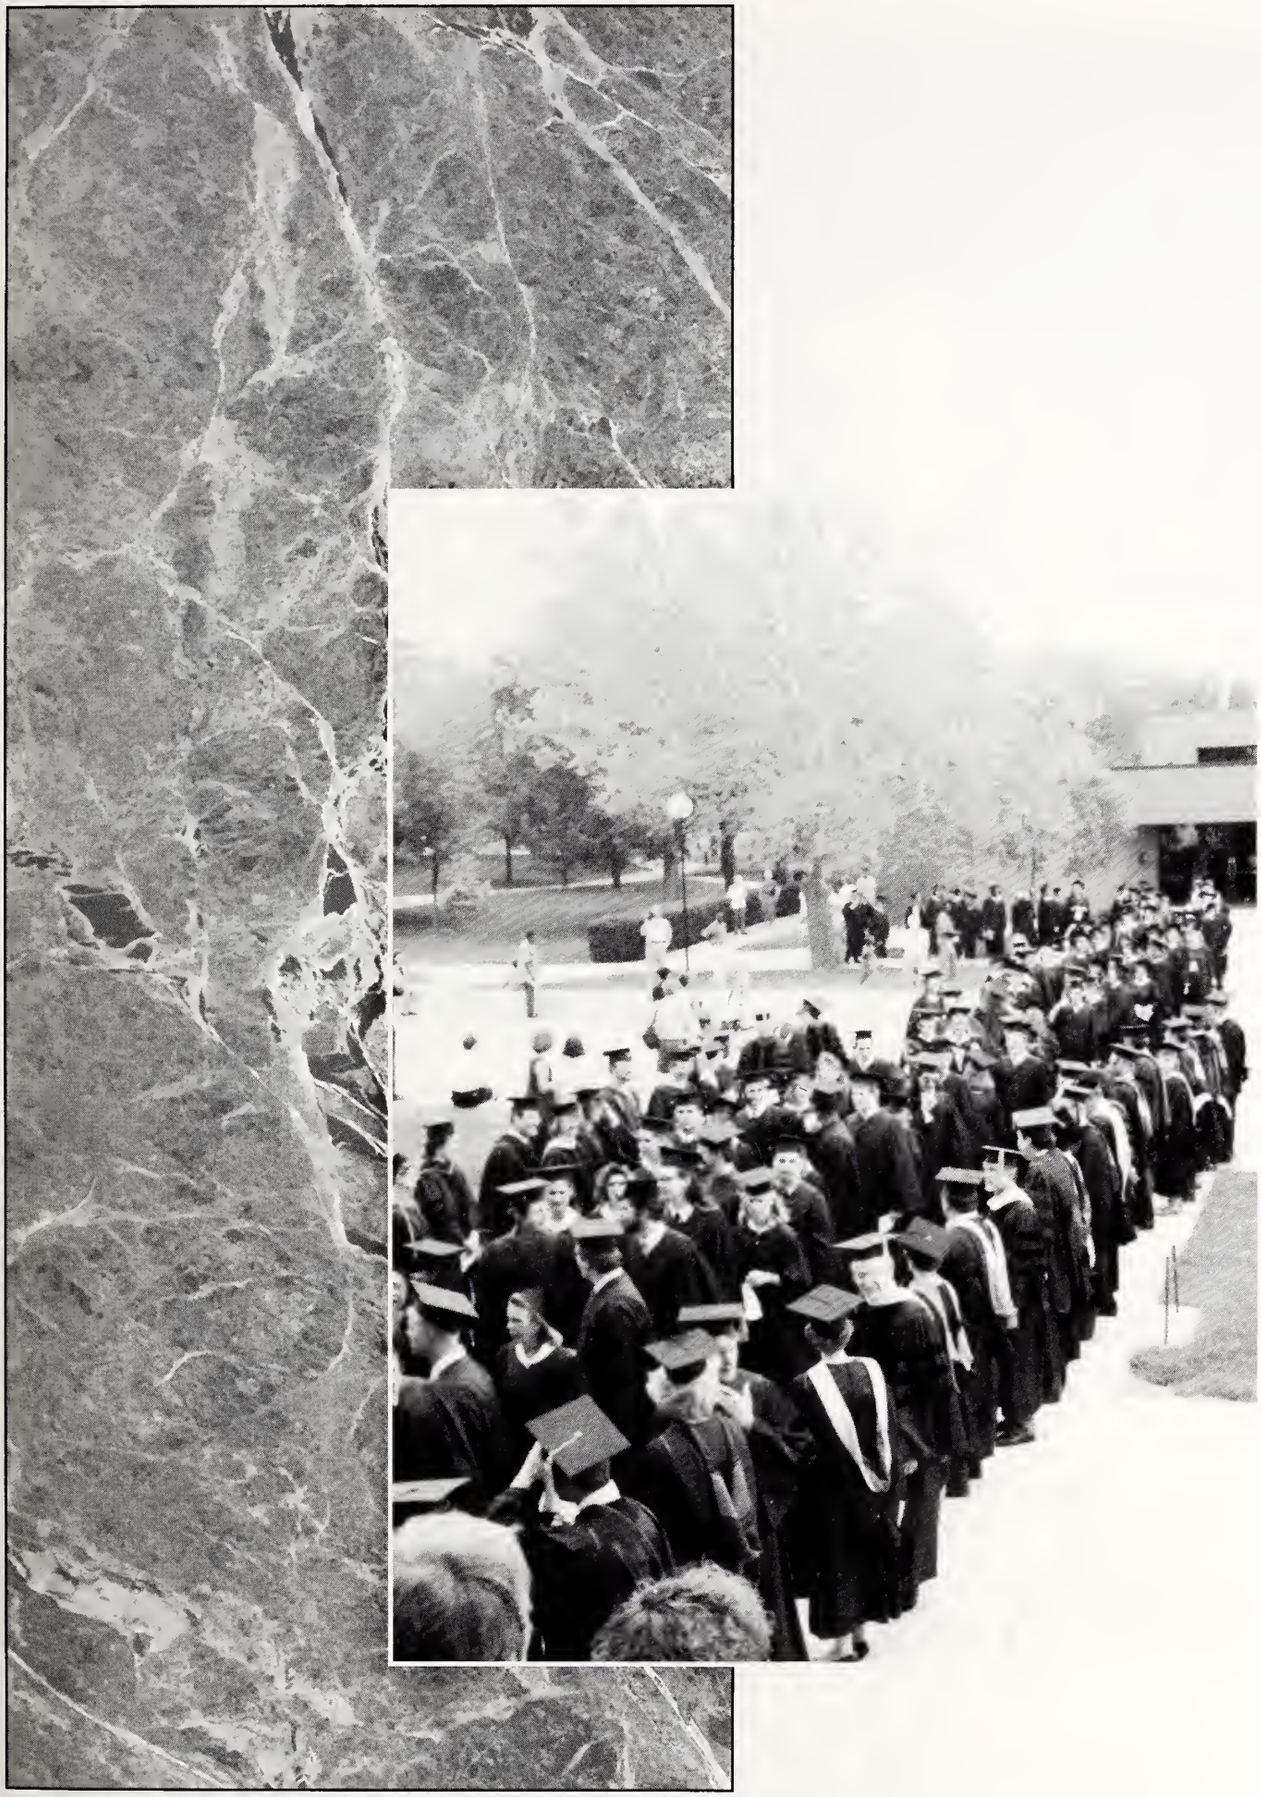
ABOVE AND RIGHT: Nate Stucky enjoying his fun cycle.

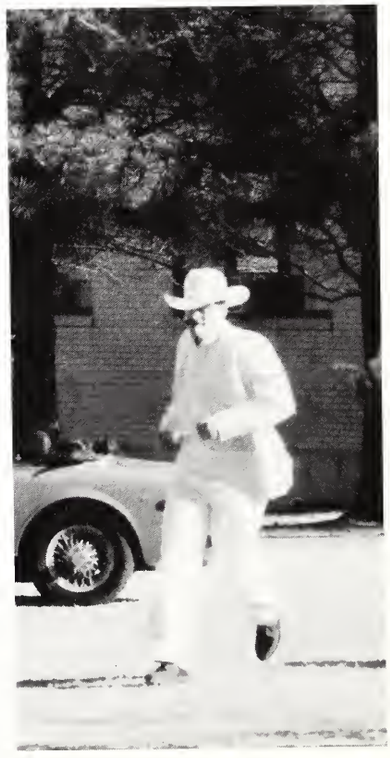


Take a Break

The Elementary Education Club is one of many on campus that get together outside the classroom in order to talk about issues, but mostly just to have fun. (photos courtesy of the Elementary Education Club)

Commencement





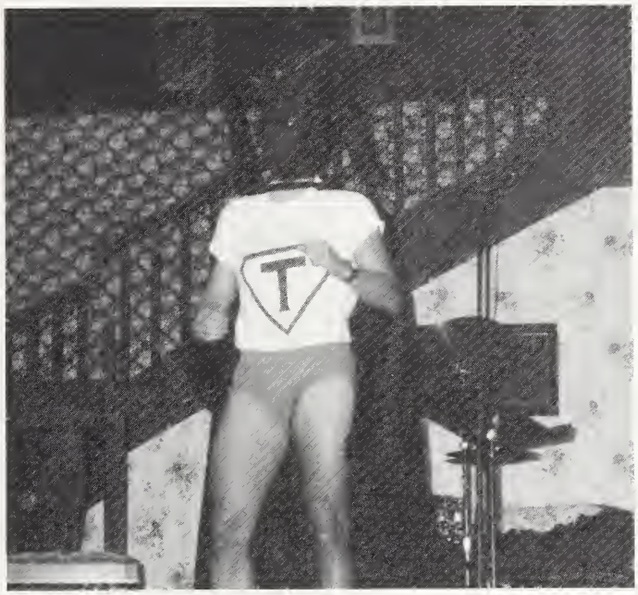
A Piece of Athletics

Athletic Department Personnel:

Athletic Director	Diane Sanders Flickner
Faculty Athletic Representative	Larry Friesen
Sports Information Director	Marty Ward
Athletic Trainers	Russ Graber (Head Trainer) Jamie Chisum John Goad Annie Greer Matt Koontz Brian Kynaston Matt Pickrell Tiffany Stephey Arissa Unruh

LEFT: This is a coach about to start coaching

Thresher Fans



ABOVE: Chris of the Spirit Crew and Cara of the Cheerleader Squad at a football game.

LEFT: "Super T" (a.k.a. Tim Waltner) in a convo announcement.

ABOVE: Jason, Andy, Curtis, and Billy are watching something - it looks fun!

A Piece of Football

Coaching Staff

George Papageorgiou - Head Coach
Scott Hoberg - Defensive Coordinator
Garret Hotmar - Offensive Coordinator
Wilmar King - Running Back Coach
Dustin Miller - Receivers and Tight Ends Coach
Chris Young - Defensive Line Coach

ABOVE: Making a pile

Overall Record: 4 - 5

KCAC Record: Tie for 5th place, 4-4

Highlights of the season included a Fall Fest victory over McPherson College and a win over arch rival Tabor College. The season finale victory against Sterling College was also an exciting win. With a young and energetic staff, a new offensive and defensive scheme, and an excellent recruiting class, Bethel College has their sights set on being at the top of the KCAC for years to come.

—adapted from the 1995-96 Athletic Yearbook

RIGHT: Robert Alvarez runs around the right end.

BELOW: Robert Alvarez tackled after a gain.

ABOVE: Practice tackling

LEFT: Sweeping right end.

A Piece of Men's Soccer

Coaching Staff

Gerry Sieber - Head Coach
Scott Young - Assistant Coach
Troy Fowler - Assistant Coach
Darin Hochstetler - Assistant Coach

ABOVE: Mark Lakin imitates an airplane after he schores.

RIGHT: Men celebrating after scoring on Bethany.

ABOVE: Juan battles for the ball, fighting against friends

Overall Record: 12-6-2

KCAK Record: 8-3-1

The Bethel College Men's Soccer Team had a good year. Considering the fact that they had a very challenging non-conference schedule, their final record was a very good accomplishment. The team finished 2nd in the KCAC regular season and 2nd in the KCAC Post Season ChampionshipTournament, losing to Friends University in the finals on a very chilly night in Wichita. The twelve wins is a newThresher record for wins in a season. The team recorded seven shutouts, which is also a school record. Because of the number of players on the roster (27), four JV games were played. The JV team had a record of 2-2.

—adapted from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

ABOVE: Gerry pacing - "Who wants some good minutes?"

ABOVE: Angela Corriga takes the ball up field.

RIGHT: Heather Gaddert showing off her speed for all to admire.

BELOW: Kate can kick.

A Piece of Women's Soccer

ABOVE: Bethel women soccer players will sacrifice all just to keep that ball out of the net.

Coaching Staff

Gerry Sieber - Head Coach
Scott Young - Assistant Coach
Troy Fowler - Assistant Coach
Jodi McCarty - Assistant Coach

Thresher Women's Soccer made its debut with a flourish that surprised more than a few KCAC soccer fans. The team captured the historical first game with a 2-0 shutout of York College, and went on to post an 8-8 overall record (6-4 KCAC). Bethel finished third place in the KCAC.

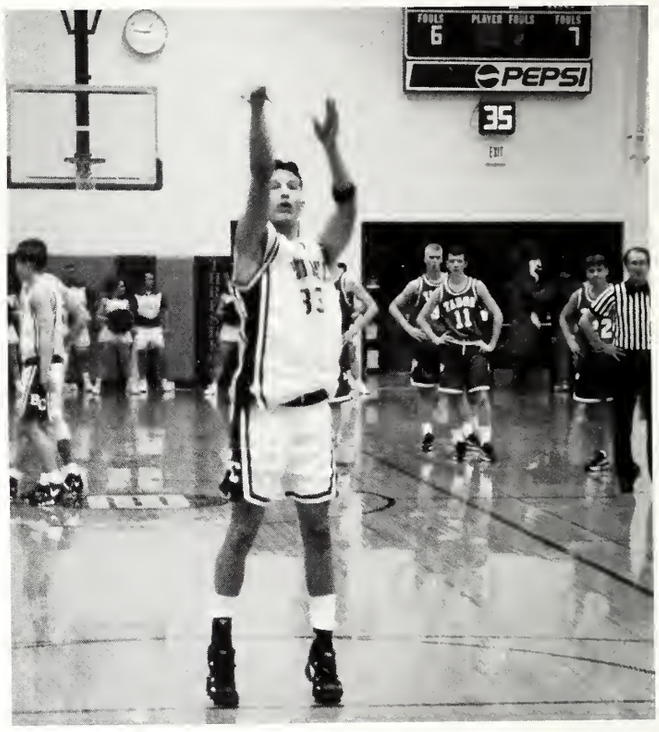
Sixteen players were on the "inaugural" Bethel College Women's Soccer Team. From all classes, no one had every played college soccer previously. Junior Audrey Gaeddert scored the first ever Bethel goal, and 37 more hit the net during the season for a 2.375 goals per game average. Sophomore goalkeeper Becky Klassen had a hand in all of the seven shutouts during the year.

The future of Women's soccer at Bethel looks promising. The experience the first year players gained, coupled with the recruitment of additional experienced players, should make for bigger and better things to come!

—adapted from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

A Piece of Men's Basketball

ABOVE: Hard at work in practice.



ABOVE: Eddie Sifuentes shoots a free throw during the Tabor College game.

Coaching Staff

Mark Yoder - Head Coach
Greg Raliegh - Assistant Coach

Overall Record: 7 - 1 9

KCAC Record: 4-12

The 1995-95 season was very frustrating for all involved. Coming off of our first winning season in eight years, with the nucleus of that team returning, expectations were high. However, defections and injury quickly set the tone for a very disappointing year. Visions of fighting for a conference championship soon gave way to a struggle for survival.

This was a kind of season that could have set us back a couple of years in our quest for a conference championship, but I don't believe it will. Many things happened this year that were out of our control, and they did make this a difficult season. But, while all of this was going on, a very determined group of young men kept laying it all on the line game in and game out. Although their efforts did not result in a winning season, I believe that effort plus the addition of a few key recruits will get us right back in the hunt next year.

—adapted from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

A Piece of Women's Basketball

ABOVE: Melissa Funk goes up against Tabor while Alissa Unruh manuevers into position

Coaching Staff

Floyd Sowers - Head Coach
Scott Young - Assistant Coach
Jeanette Bailey - Student Assistant

Overall Record: 8-20

KCAC Record: 8th place, 4-12

The women's basketball team entered the season with high hopes even though they had lost four starters to graduation. The season began without four key performers who were still involved in other sports. With four consecutive losses these four joined the team and made an immediate contribution. After Christmas, the Threshers picked up a good win in Kansas City against Avila College. But this is where things started to become more difficult. However, the Threshers were very competitive throughout the second half of the season, but wins were hard to come by.

—adapted from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

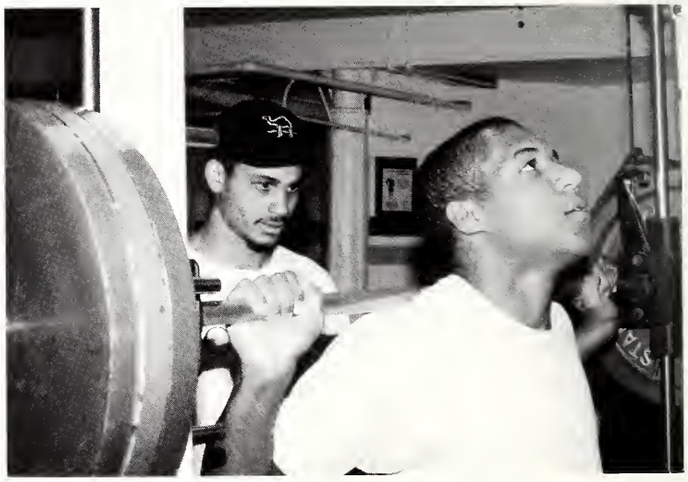
A Piece of Bethel Track

Coaching Staff

George Rogers - Head Coach
Tracy Tuttle - Assistant Coach
Russ Graber - Assistant Coach

ABOVE: And they're off...

RIGHT: Training hard in the weight room



RIGHT: When it's too cold outside, run inside.

LEFT: Eric Peters is not wearing a shirt in this picture

The 1995-1996 indoor and outdoor track seasons showed a great deal of imporvement. The men's team increased in size, and performances improved immensely. Many indoor and outdoor records were broken by the men, along with Tiffany Stephey's new discus record in outdoor track for the women.

The men won their first meet in 12 years as the team dominated the ACCK Championships. Performances improved through the KCAC Championship meet, but Southwestern's numbers were too much for the smaller numbered Thresher team as the men finished in an impressive second place. The women placed fifth with only four competitiors, but they either scored or set personal bests in every event they participated in.

Eric Peters qualified in pole vault for the NAIA National Championship meet in Georgia, May 20-24.

—copied from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

A Piece of Men's Tennis

ABOVE: Brian and Adam work on their doubles strategy

Coaching Staff

Marty Ward - Head Coach

Overall Record: 15-6

The Threshers of 1995-96 may have been the "most improved" men's tennis team in Bethel's illustrious tennis history. This progress is something we as a team can take great pride in.

Among our team's outstanding accomplishments were the fall season 5-4 dual win over Barton County Community College. Following that victory we concluded our season with a strong showing over Southern Nazarene College and Seward County Community College in our season-ending home triangular.

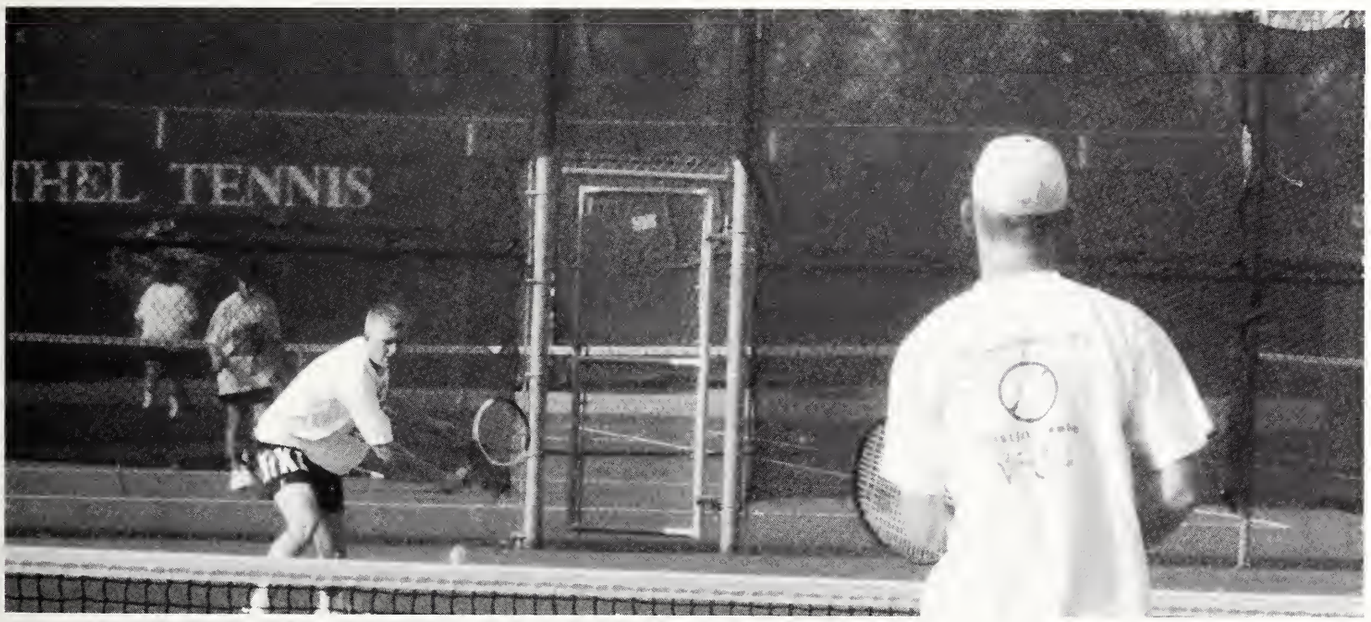
Victor and Jared split the vote for KCAC most Valuable Player. It was a nice gesture on the part of the conference coaches to recognize the winningest doubles team in the history of the KCAC as Co-MVPs.

The 1995-96 team extended Bethel's KCAC championship streak to seven years and qualified for the NAIA Men's Tennis CHampionships to be held in Tulsa.

—copied from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearboo

ABOVE: Adam Holzworth serves yet another powerful serve

ABOVE: Jared Ward charges the net



ABOVE: Troy Brodhagen waits to return a volley by Adam Holzworth

A Piece of Women's Tennis

ABOVE: Keitha Malone hits a backhand

ABOVE: Zebrina Robertson smashes a backhand

ABOVE: Heather Farris hits a forehand shot

Zebrina Robertson tosses for serve

Coaching Staff

Marty Ward - Head Coach
Chris Mitchell - Assistant Coach

Overall Record: 17 - 3

The Thresher women's tennis team of 1995-96 was a highly succesful blend of strong returning players and talented freshmen. Bethel won its eighth Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference women's tennis championship against the strongest competition in conference history.

At the KCAC Tournament in October, the Threshers won four titles, along with four seconds and one third place finish. Five players recieved All-KCAC honors.

At the KCAC National Qualifier in late April, the Thresher women swept the singles titles inan impressive overall team performance. Holly Sweatt finished the year undefeated in both singles and doubles in KCAC competition, while Keitha Malone was undefeated in KCAC singles action at the number one position

—copied from the 1995-96 Bethel College Athletic Yearbook

ABOVE: Susan Peschel hits one in mid-court

A Piece of Volleyball

ABOVE: The 1996 Bethel College Volleyball team raises their KCAC championship placque

Coaching Staff

Bev Mayer - Head Coach

Overall Record: 28-14

Several goals were obtained for the Bethel College volleyball team as they were able to repeat as conference champions in 1995. The conference tournament championship was a goal that was established in the beginning of the season and one that all members will cherish for years to come.

After a rocky 1-2 conference start, this team discovered their identity and pulled together to win the next 18 conference matches in a row. With only one returning senior, the squad needed time to establish their positions and leadership roles. Once the team recognized their abilities, they proved to be a strong force to contend with. Throughout the course of the season, this team overcame many injuries and adversity to prevail in the end. The season ended with a trip to Mitchell, South Dakota, for the Great Plains Regional tournament. Even though they did not advance out of regionals, they were pleased with how competitive they played at that level.

BELOW: Jenni Scott gets ready to serve

BELOW: Anna Krauss-Dunlavy hitting, Melisa Funk and Jenni Scott watching

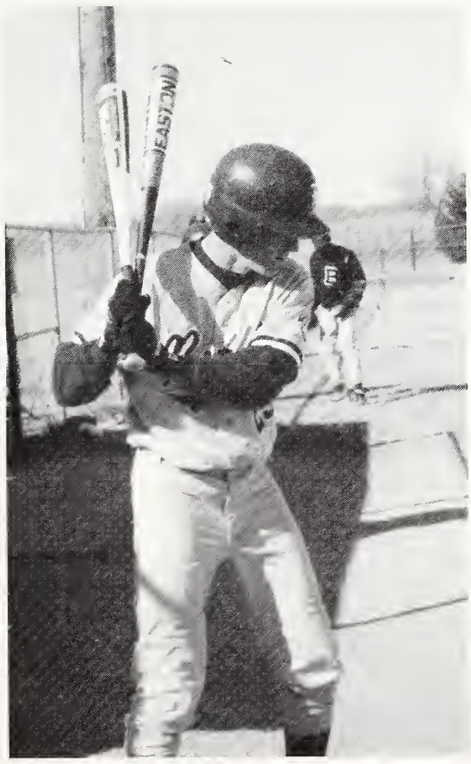
ABOVE: Anne Reiman passes, while Anna Dunlavy and Jenni Scott wait ready to hit.

RIGHT: Team huddle

A Piece of Club Baseball

(Back Row Left-Right) Paul Unrau, Manager; Matt Koontz; Dan Schultz; Michael Robinson; Willmar Harder; Jon Zerger; Gregg Dick, Coach; (Front Row Left-Right) Luis Garcia; Ryan Barnes; Joe Montano; Troy Morris; Kevin Winter; Matt Wittmer

25
11
24



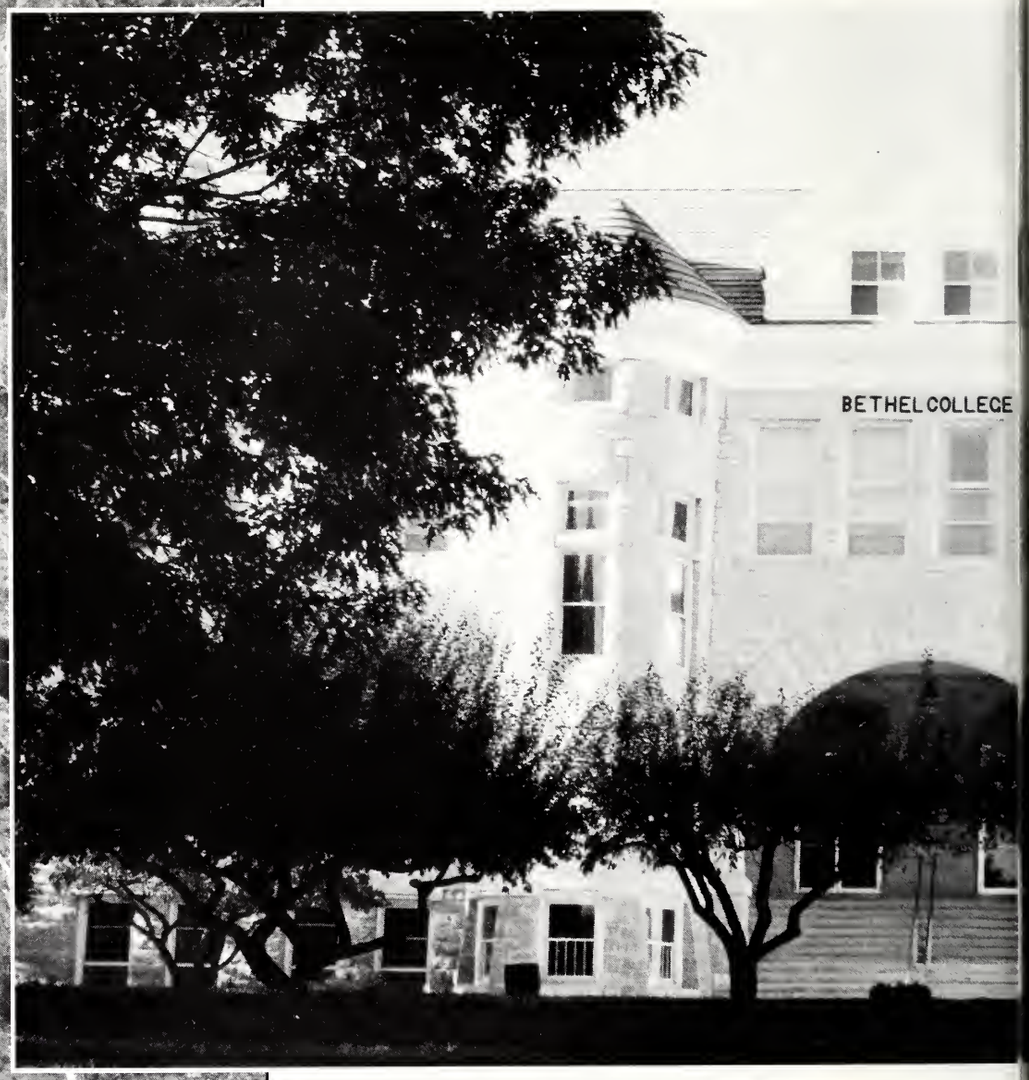
EASTON

Q. What are they watching, and is that corn on the cob any good?

A. Performers at Winfield '96, and yes.

Fun!

The Pillars of Bethel College



(Katie Chappell is) Studying at Bethel College

(The faculty are) Hugging, Reading, Grinning at Bethel College

A Piece of Drama

Student Directed Plays

While most of the students at Bethel College were gearing up for the final few weeks of school by writing term papers, memorizing definitions, and studying for exams, the play production and direction class, taught by Arlo Kasper, was beginning to display the fruits of effort in a different way. Five students directed plays as part of the class's requirements.

The students were Leslie Brown, senior from Hesston, who directed a play including a series of writings, "Jessie B. Semple"; J.E. Johnson, senior from McPherson, who directed the play "The Shawl" by David Mamet; Maurice Moore, junior from Peachland, N.C., who directed "The Giving Tree," a play he adapted from the original book by Shel Silverstein; and Matt Pankratz, senior from Newton, who directed the drama "Protest" by Vaclav Havel; Chad Siebert, sophomore from Henderson, Neb., who directed "Here We Are" by Dorothy Parker.

Maurice Moore's show, "The Giving Tree," featured three characters including Willie Johnson, junio from California City, Calif., as the child who grows into an old man; Ruth Martin, sophomore from La Grange, Ind., as the tree; and Lolem Ngong, sophomore from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, as the narrator.

—adapted from the April 19, 1996 Collegian article written by Jen Stoll

"The Giving Tree" rehearsals

"Don Giovanni"

"Don Giovanni," written by Wolfgang A. Mozart, was the spring opera at Bethel. The opera-comedy is set in the middle of the 17th century and centers around a Don Juanesque young nobleman, Don Giovanni, who prides himself on sexual conquests.

Giovanni was portrayed by Chris Kliewer, junior from Buhler, and his servant Leporello was played by Greg Hinex, senior from Midwest City, Okla.

The opera began midscene with Giovanni being challenged to a duel by the Commendatore, played by Brian Mast. The duel is a result of Giovanni's forced entry into the Commendatore's daughter's bed chambers. The daughter, Donna Anna, was played by Gwen Roth, senior from Hesston. The Commendatore is murdered by Giovanni in the duel, forcing Donna Anna and her lover, Don Octavio, played by Jim Ostlund, to attempt to bring the murderer and rapist to justice.

At the same time, Giovanni's former wife, Donna Elvira, has made a similar vow to protect others from the ways of Don Giovanni. Amy Ortman, senior from Marion, S.D., portrayed the character of Donna Elvira.

Meanwhile, Giovanni continues his escapades with women by trying to capture the heart of a peasant girl, Zerlina, played by Dianna Peters, junior from Hapton, Neb. To complicate matters further, Zerlina is already betrothed to Masetto, played by Mark Lamb, senior from Lacona, Iowa.

The opera reached its tragic end when the slain Commendatore's marble gravestone carries Giovanni to his ultimate resting place.

According to director John McCabe-Juhnke, associate professor of communication arts, the opera was "mostly of comic element even though it ends tragically."

However, the opera was musically quite complex and the cast spent approximately 20 hours a week in rehearsal.

—adapted from the Feb. 23, 1996 Collegian article written by Cara Eshelman

ABOVE LEFT: Jim Ostlund and Gwendloyn Roth sing their lines during rehearsal of "Don Giovanni."

ABOVE: Dianna Peters, Mark Lamb, Jim Ostlund and Gwendolyn Roth do their best at scaring Greg Hinex.

LEFT: Greg Hines belts out a tune while rehearsing for the spring opera.

"Dining Room"

The Bethel College drama department presented "The Dining Room" by A.R. Gurney on April 22-27 and May 4 as the spring play.

The production was described as a brilliantly conceived and richly humored theatrical tour de force (and long-run off Broadway success) in which performers portray a wide variety of diverse characters. According to the director, Arlo Kasper, each person played seven to nine characters.

The play was set in the dining room of a typical well-to-do household, the place where the family assembled daily for breakfast and dinner and for any and all special occasions. The action was comprised of a mosaic of interrelated scenes—some funny, some touching, some rueful.

The actors changed roles, personalities and ages with virtuoso skill as they portrayed a wide variety of characters, from little boys to stern grandfathers, and from giggling teenage girls to Irish housemaids.

"The play is so effective, in part because anyone can identify with a lot of the characters, families and experiences in their own homes, Kasper said.

The cast included Susan Dixon, Angela Dreier, Brooke Kennell, Damon Klassen, Chad Siebert, Kathy Harder, and Maurice Moore.

—adapted from the April 19, 1996 Collegian article written by Cara Eshleman

RIGHT: Maurice Moore and Chad Siebert rehearsing.

BELOW: Maurice Moore, Brooke Kennell and Angie Dreier rehearse for "The Dining Room." Long hours of practice and hard work went into the production.

ABOVE: Practicing for perfection, Brooke Kennell, Kathy Harder and Susan Dixon go over their lines one more time.

LEFT: Laying down the brick work, Chad Siebert, Brooke Kennell and Maurice Moore rehearse a scene to ensure that their performance will be solid.

"Arsenic and Old Lace"

For the 1995 Fall Fest weekend drama, director John McCabe-Juhnke, professor Communication Arts, chose "Arsenic and Old Lace" to be presented because of its ties to Bethel College. Joseph Kesselring, the play's author, was a former professor at Bethel and it is speculated that he based the play on two North Newton women. "Since it was important year for Fall Festival, as its 25th anniversary and the inauguration of a new president, we wanted to tie Bethel into the production in a big way," McCabe-Juhnke said.

The comedy centered around two elderly sisters who poison old men, convinced they are doing them a favor by putting them out of their misery. Their mission is complicated when their nephew Mortimer, the only sane member of the family, uncovers the plot. Other lead character roles included Teddy Brewster, Mortimer's uncle who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt; madman Jonathan Brewster, his sidekick Dr. Einstein; and Elaine, Mortimer's love.

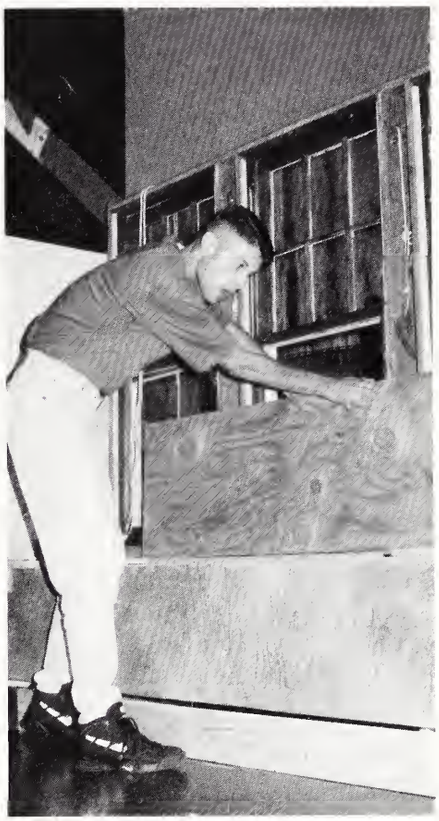
"It was a really funny show," said Bryn Gribben, senior from Leoti, who was cast as Martha Brewster. "It's out of control."

Despite its funniness, McCabe-Juhnke and his cast worked hard to develop character roles that satisfied them. "It's a very difficult comedy," said Chad Siebert, sophomore from Henderson, Neb., who played Mortimer Brewster. "It took a lot of work."

Matt Pankratz, senior from Newton, who played Teddy Brewster said, "I think this production really showcased a broad range of talent on the Bethel campus."

RIGHT: Matthew Pankratz proudly shows that real men do wear make-up.

BELOW: Bryn Gribben, Chad Siebert and Dianna Peters at work during rehearsal.



ABOVE: Chad Siebert looks into the window seat . . . Jared Morris, are you in there?

LEFT: Brooke Kennell, Dianna Peters and Bryn Gribben practicing their roles.

"This Lady's Not for Burning"

Bethel's fall play for the 1995 season was "This Lady's Not for Burning" written by 20th century playwright Christopher Fry. Arlo Kasper had been hoping to do the play for 30 years, when he first became acquainted with it in graduate school and saw it performed in the 80s.

The play takes place in England during the witchcraft trials. Though a more serious time in English history, Fry's work is an "ironic, clever commentary on community prejudices," Kasper said. "It was a challenge to perform."

The plot begins as discharged soldier Thomas Mendicap, tired of life, marches into a small town where he declares he is guilty of murder and wishes to be hanged. Shortly after, Jennet Jourdemayne, a young woman accused of witchcraft, is brought before the mayor to be judged. Unlike Thomas, Jennet does not want to be hanged and both are struck at the absurdity of hanging someone who does not want to die and not hanging someone who does. The story is complicated by a wedding party that is also staying at the mayor's home. During the night, Thomas and Jennet fall in love, and when the man Thomas supposedly kills shows up alive and intoxicated and Jennet's guilt can not be proved, Thomas and Jennet run away together.

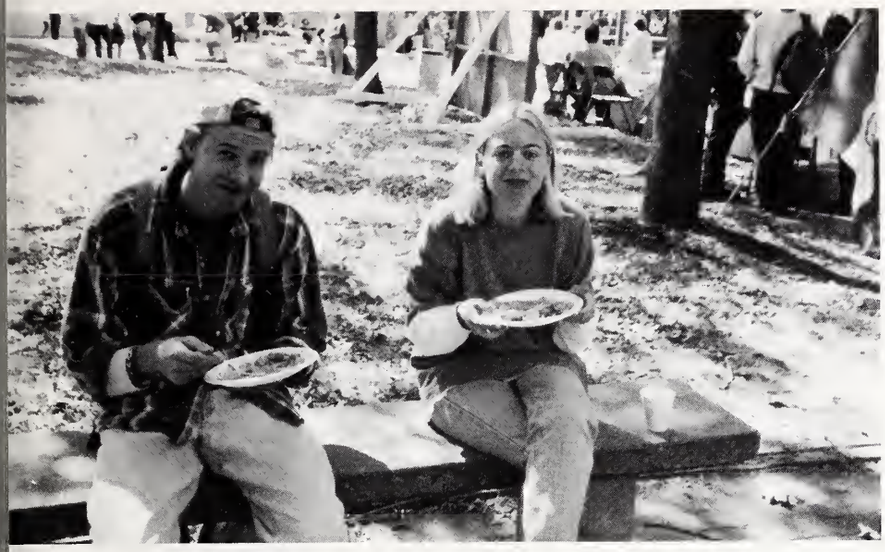
Although the play was about a serious subject, it was a comedy. "It's basically serious or sad depending on the viewpoint, but has many surprises. Lines come out of nowhere," said David Andrew Kaufman, sophomore from Newton, who played the Chaplain.

Other cast members included: Karl Kroeker, Jared Ward, Adrienne Gard, Brian Huxman, Leslie Brown, Matt Krehbiel, Matt Pankratz, Angie Dreier, Aaron Christopher and David Alan Kaufman.

ABOVE: Matthew Pankratz can not keep from laughing while practicing his lines with Jared Ward.

RIGHT: Matthew Pankratz looks confused while Leslie Brown and Adrienne Gard rehearse a scene from "This Lady's Not For Burning."

The Green: Outside Life at Bethel



SPOKEN
TONI
MORRISON
BELOVED

John Aguilar
Juan Aguirre
Deborah Akers
Julie Aldrich
Amy Allen

Mona Allender
Robert Alvarez
Felisa Araujo
David Arellano
Daniel Asher

Larissa Asher
Sarah Austin
Jeanette Bailey
Mary Jo Bailey
Nathan Bailey

Julie Bain-Young
Josep Balanzat
Bonnie Bandaker
Meniza Bannister
Preston Barger

Ryan Barnes
Jose Barrios
Olivia Bartel
Lynn Beebe
Danny Begaye

Lisa Bellecci-St. Romain
Benjamin Benavides
Dawnele Bennett
Nancy Bergeson
Elizabeth Berndt

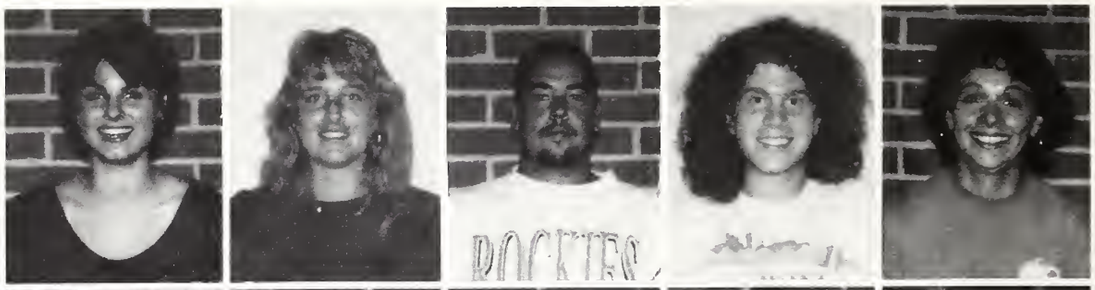
Tonya Berry
Kevin Bieker
Megan Bird
Rebecca Birdsell
Jana Blanks

Christopher Blosser
Kirsten Blosser
Sherry Bonham
Amy Bontrager
Mario Boschmann

Douglas Boudreau
Tammy Bowden
Misty Bowe
Matthew Boyter
Sondra Brand

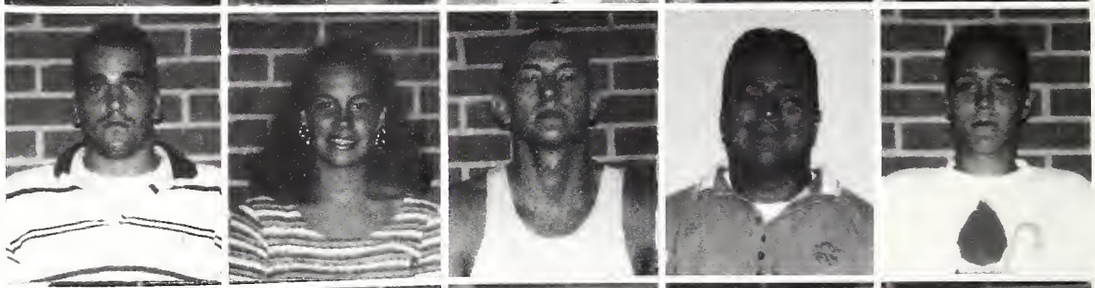
LeRoy Brandon
Troy Brodhagen
Calriki Brown
Leslie Brown
Shana Brown

Anne Brubacher
Tamara Buckbee
Gary Buller
Timothy Buller
Joanne Burckhart

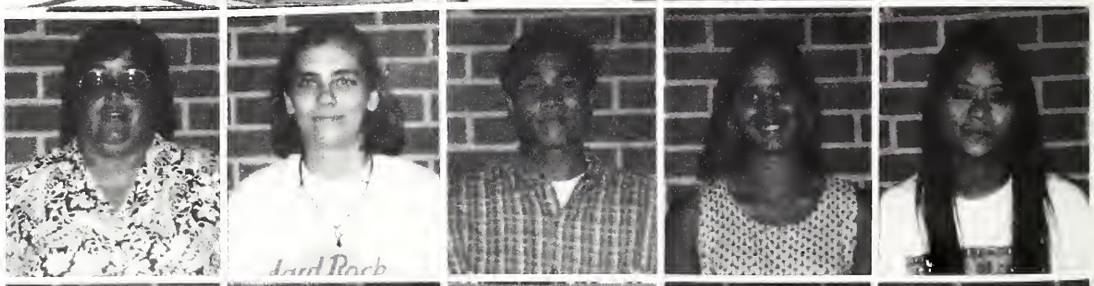


Melanie Burke
Anna Burns
Matthew Busby
Julia Calderon-Kawasaki
Melody Campbell

Mike Candeloro
Angela Cappelletti
Brandon Carter
Danny Castro
Pablo Ceres



Twila Chaloupek
Staci Chambers
Jamison Chan
Katie Chappell
Ha Thu Chau



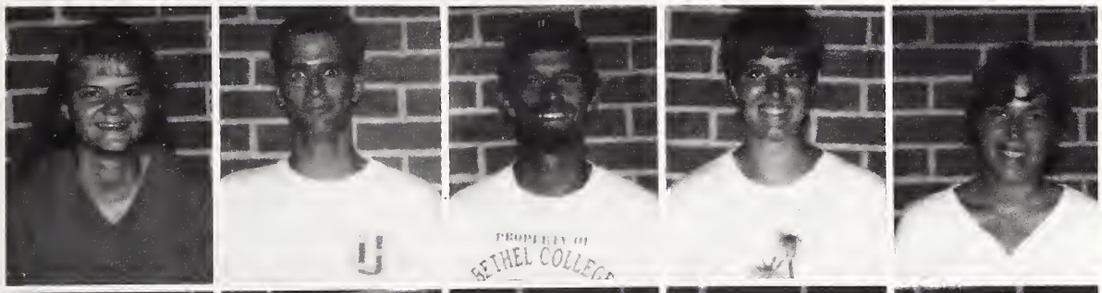
Zhu Wei Chen
Chad Childs
Jamie Chisum
Aaron Christopher
Douglas Claassen

Michael Claassen
Kimberly Claflin
Lynne Clark
Angie Clydesdale
Anna Cook

Mmm . . . Food!!!

Food is a large part of the daily life of college students. Whether you are eating in the cafeteria or at home with your family, food is what keeps the energy up to study for all those hard exams and finish the many projects. It is also a crucial part of our social lives with our friends and loved ones. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Eric Cook-Wiens
Angela Corrigan
Aaron Craig
Darrin Craig
Thomas Creary



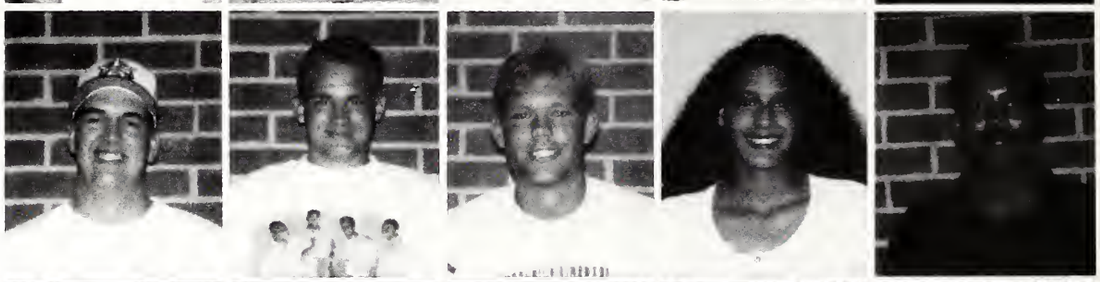
Honey Daugherty
Phillip de la Rosa
Aaron Chappell Deckert
Jennifer Chappell Deckert
Maria Deckert

Miranda DeLuna
Kathryn Dick
Susan Dickson
Karen Dickson
Domenico DiGrande

Monica Dixon
Susan Dixon
Sanjeeb Dodge
Cristina Doell
Kathy Doyle

Angela Dreier
Danny Drew
Darin Driscoll
Grace Duerksen
Anna Dunlavy

Jason Dunn
Brian Ebert
Mark Ediger
Tammi Ediger
Rufus Emmanuel



Rachel Epp
Heather Esau
Cara Eshelman
Eduardo Esquivel
Katie Etherington

Sarah Etherington
Jon Ewert
Rachael Falco
Angela Farris
Heather Farris

Brian Fast
Nathan Ferree
Derrick Finley
Sherri Flora
Sarah Forrest

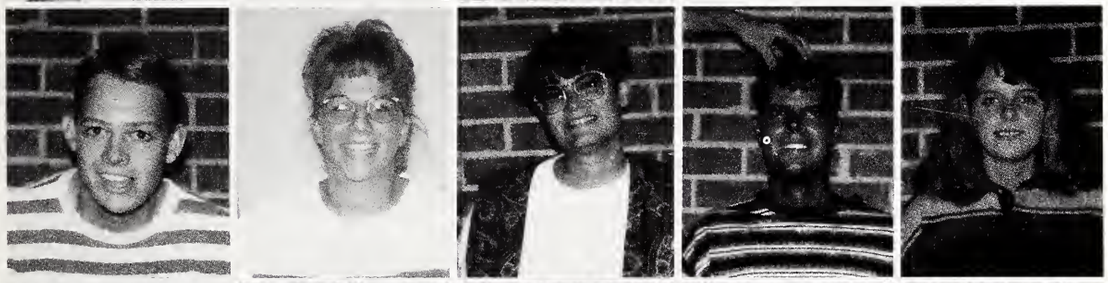
Audrey Franz
Andrea Freeburne
Christopher Freeburne
Mark Fretz
Penny Frey

Listen to the Airwaves

KBCU 88.1 is the college radio station where many students volunteer their time. They come from all majors and interests to learn about the radio business and to have fun being DJs or working behind the scenes. The station plays all types of music to suit all different tastes. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Amber Friesen
Joanna Friesen
Ken Friesen
Kendra Friesen
Liv Friesen

Marc Friesen
Tara Friesen
Terisa Friesen
Tim Friesen
Sally Frieze



Jerram Froese
Keri Froese
Diane Fulkerson
Jon Funk
Melisa Funk

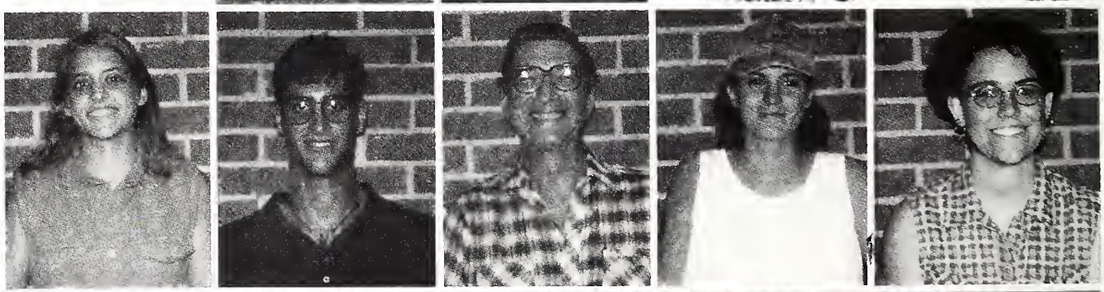
Nancy Furbeck
Audrey Gaeddert
Heather Gaeddert
Kevin Gaeddert

Adrienne Gard
Gretchen Gering
Zeina Ghaoui
Shelbi Giesbrecht
Victor Gill

Jessica Goering
Kim Goering
Linda Goering
Janet Goertzen
Tonya Goertzen

Socorro Gonzalez
Staci Goossen
Jay Graber
Jesse Graber
Philip Graber

Sharilyn Graber
Travis Graber
James Graf
Erica Graham
Bridget Grant



Elizabeth Greer
Bryn Gribben
Rita Gritmacker
Joseh Lee Guerra
Zandra Guete

Curtis Guhr
Laurie Guhr
Rhonda Guyle
Neil Hamill
Brenda Harden

What Is It?

We were all amused by the sites we saw at Fall Fest. One of the neat attractions this year was this wooden farmer on his tractor that was run by remote control. The kids loved it and by the expression on Bryn Gribben's face, some were just wondering what is it? (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Kathy Harder
Willmar Harder
Scott Harguth
Matthew Harms
Randi Harvey

Arijan Hasangjekaj
Jeffrey Hawes
Koji Hayakawa
Sam Heiks
Rebecca Hein

Amanda Heinrichs
Brenda henneberg
Sharon Hershberger
William Hershey
Jennifer Hess

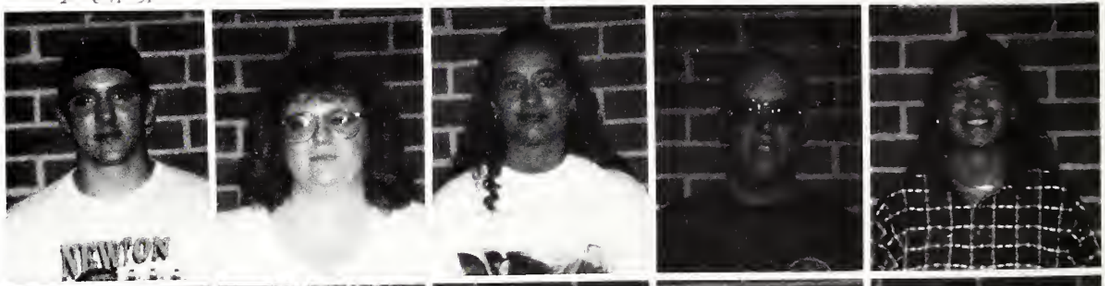
Andrey Hiebner
Crysta Hill
Karen Hill
Gregory Hinex
Roger Hoagland

Audrey Hodgson
Wayne Hodgson
Lance Hofer
Walter Holmes
Kamara Holsinger

Jane Holzrichter
Adam Holzworth
Elizabeth Horst
Brian Horton
Sandra Hotchkin

Katelyn Hubert
Sarah Hutchison
Brian Huxman
Brenda Ingram
Mitchell Isaac

Matteson Jackson
Noel Jaderborg
Bernice Jantzen
Eric Jantzen
Kristen Jantzen

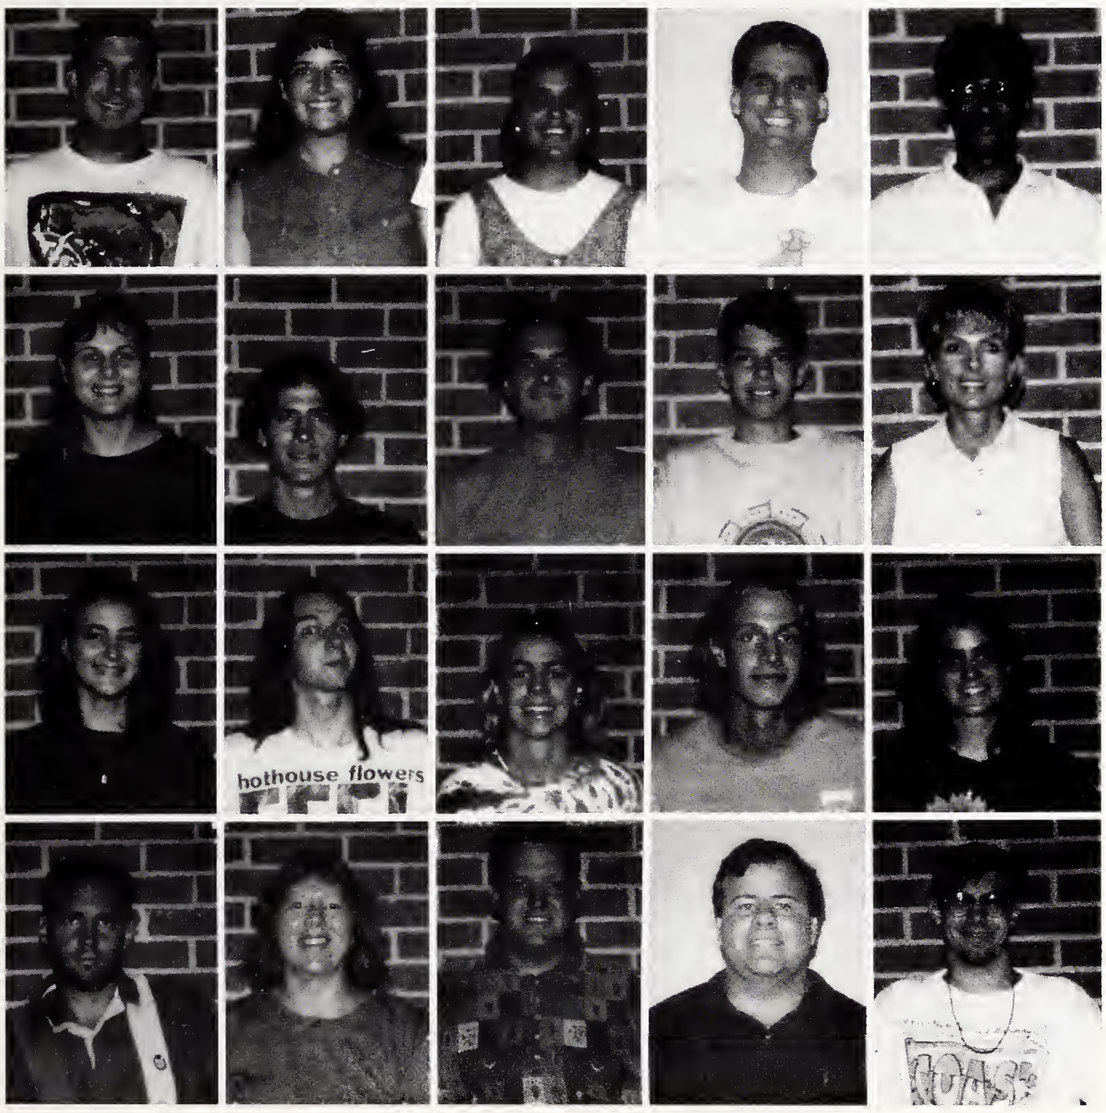


Jay Dee Janzen
Jennifer Janzen
Kelley Janzen
Matthew Janzen
Todd Janzen

Brigitte Jaquet
Justin Johnson
Nicole Johnson
Willie Johnson
Elizabeth Johnston

Staying Healthy

As we study away here at Bethel some of us overlook our health and colds have a tendency to sneak up on us. It becomes very easy to spread a cold around this campus. We need to stay healthy in order to do the best in our classes. Zandra Guete is getting checked by Jenny Reimschisel at the free blood pressure checks during Fall Fest. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)



Benjamin Jones
Katherine Jost
Palwasha Kakar
David Kallweit
Aman Kapoor

Janinne Kauffman
David Alan Kaufman
David Andrew Kaufman
David Lynn Kaufman
Denise Kaufman

Rachael Keating
Roger Keating
Gretchen Kehrberg
Kevin Kehrberg
Brooke Kennell

Jan Kentfield
Eunice Kerbs
Jeremy Kindy
Christopher King
Ethan King

Damon Klassen
Rebecca Klassen
Christopher Kliewer
Greta Kloster
Wanda Knowles

Gracia Koehn
Thomas Konen
Matthew Koontz
Nathan Koontz
Esther Kratzer

Allen Krehbiel
Karri Krehbiel
Matthew Krehbiel
Stephanie Krehbiel
Karl Kroeker

Keela Kruse
Natalie Kultscher
Brian Kynaston
Emily Kynaston
Justin Lakin

Mark Lakin
Mark Lamb
Allison Langston
Suzanne Lawrence
Sondra Leatherman

Aimee Leisy
Chad Lehman
Melinda Leritz
Walter Lero
Kimberly Loewen

A Friend Everywhere

One of the nice things about this campus is its size. Bethel is small enough so that people can get to know just about everyone. It is easy to say hello to people you have only seen in the cafeteria or in class. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Andres Macias
Daniel Macias
Juan Macias
Blake Madden
Alfredo Malcolm

Keitha Malone
Sonia Marquardt
Jason Marsh
Tonya Marsh
Melissa Martin

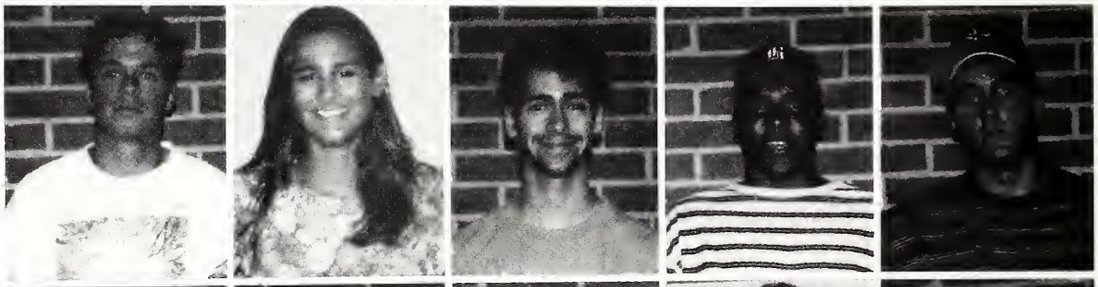
Ruth Martin
Teresa Martin
Jesus Martinez
Leah Martisko
Joy Mason

Brian Mast
Bill Maurer
Karen McAnulty
Margaret McCain
Shirley McCartee

Darrick McCasland
Barron McDonald
Deborah McFarlane
John McKay
Jason McMillan

James Meeks
Christopher Melugin
Monica Meyer
Reed Meyer
Kelly Mick

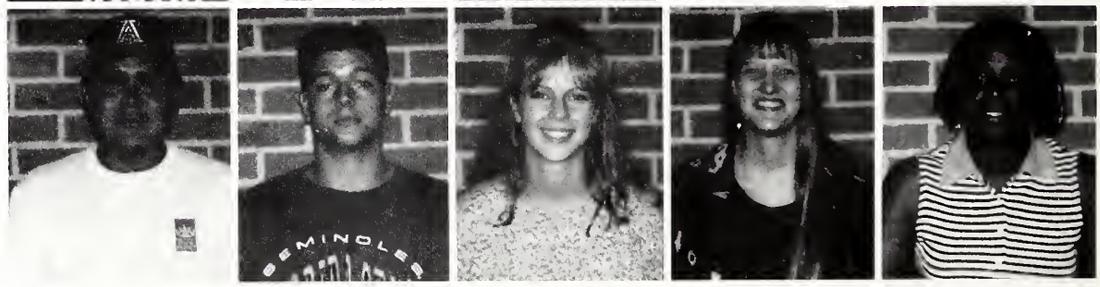
Christopher Miller
Jennifer Miller
Matthew Milton
Ed Minninger
Jason Molzen



Joe Montano
Buffy Moody
Ervin Maurice Moore
Julie Moorehead
Jerod Morris

Troy Morris
Elizabeth Morrison
Angela Muhuri
Ross Musselman
Helen Myron

Micah Myron
Chris Nelson
Julie Nelson
Hannah Neufeld
Lolem Ngong



Cotton Candy Delight

Tara Friesen and Tammy Bowden are making sweets for the crowds at Fall Fest to raise money for the Bethel College Rhythm Squad. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Nicole Niehage
Colby Nish
Michael Oakman
Stephen Obold
Pamela O'Neal

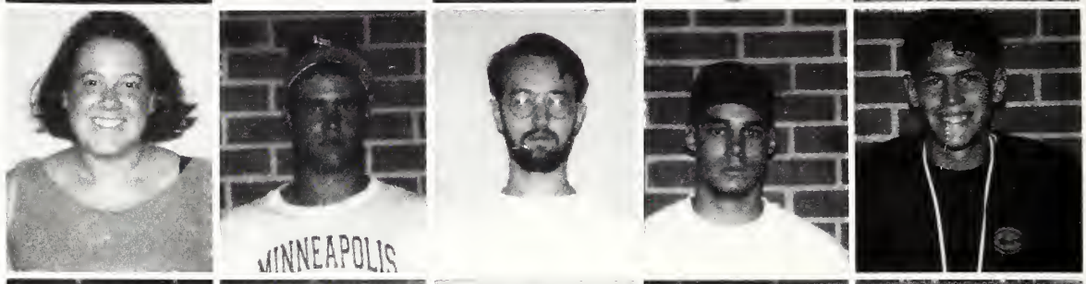
Amy Ortman
Tonya Ortman
William Ortman
James Ostlund
Matthew Pankratz

Lina Parker
Stephen Parks
Amy Passero
Dorian Patten
Bobbi Payne

Anastacio Pecina
Kimberly Penner
Kristi Pennington
Susan Peschel
Amie Jo Peters

Dianna Peters
Eric Peters
Jeanie Peterson
Desiree Pfeffer
Christopher Phillippe

Jessica Phillips
Matthew Pickrell
Warren Poag
Jeremy Popp
Daniel Poppleton



Brian Prilliman
Jennifer Prinz
Doug Quint
Bradley Quiring
Alissa Randa

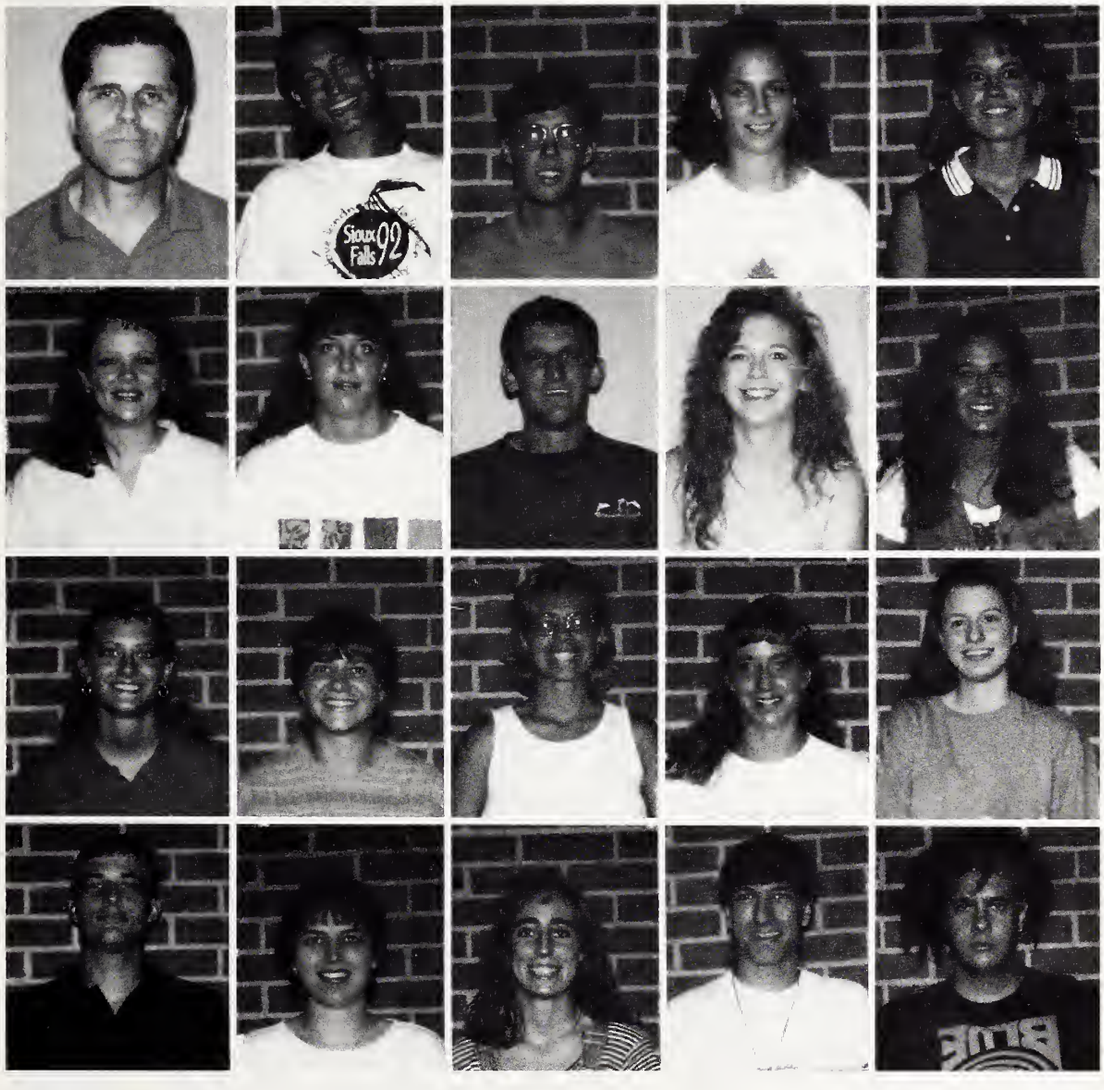
Arlene Range
Joshua Rangel
Mike Ratzlaff
Christina Reeves
Jason Regier

Anne Reiman
Jennifer Reimschisel
Diana Roberts
Kimberly Roberts
Zabrina Robertson

Michael Robinson
Kenton Rosenhagen
Gwendolyn Roth
Mary Rumbaugh
Brandon Russell

Great Lighting

What a beautiful day to sit outside and enjoy a good reading. Stephen Obold listens with great concentration to every word spoken by Kerry Saner. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)



Mark Sanders
Kerry Saner
Phillip Sawatzky
Tamara Sawatzky
Andrea Sayler

Julie Schaar
Michelle Schauf
Morris Scheffler
Shari Scheffler
Maryse Schlenk

Alison L. Schmidt
Alison M. Schmidt
Catherine Schmidt
Erica Schmidt
Lisa Schmidt

Philip Schmidt
Shasta Schmidt
Vanessa Schmidt
WilliamSchmidt
Zachary Schobernd

Elizabeth Schrag
Eric Schrag
Jody Schrag
Melissa Schrag
Carla Schultz

Daniel Schultz
Rhonda Scheer
Nathan Schwabaur
Erin Scott
Jennifer Scott

John Jacob Scott
Joseph Scott
Chadwick Seidl
Christopher Selzer
Rolan Shilts

Amy Shurtz
Chad Siebert
Brandon Siemens
LeAyre Siemens
Eddie Sifuentes

Wendy Simms
Allison Smith
Julie Smith
Laurel Snide
Jennifer Snyder

Shannon Snyder
Javier Solorio
Brian Sommer
Michelle Sommer
Kimberly Sommerfield

Sweet, Soothing Voices

The group Stairwell began here on the campus when Fred Hardyway, Kelly Stucky, Kelsey Graber and Allen Krehbiel got together to form a group dedicated to singing Christian music. They became popular with students and have been able to spread to other communities. They have touched us all with their music. (photo by Cristin Dorsing)

Juan Sotelo
Marcus Soto
Liberty Spencer
Darla Sprinkle
Matt Spruill

Tiffany Stephey
Sydney Stigge
Jennifer Stipp
Jennifer Stoll
Darla Stonehouse

Kari Stucky
Kelly Stucky
Krystal Stucky
Melissa Stucky
Meredith Stucky

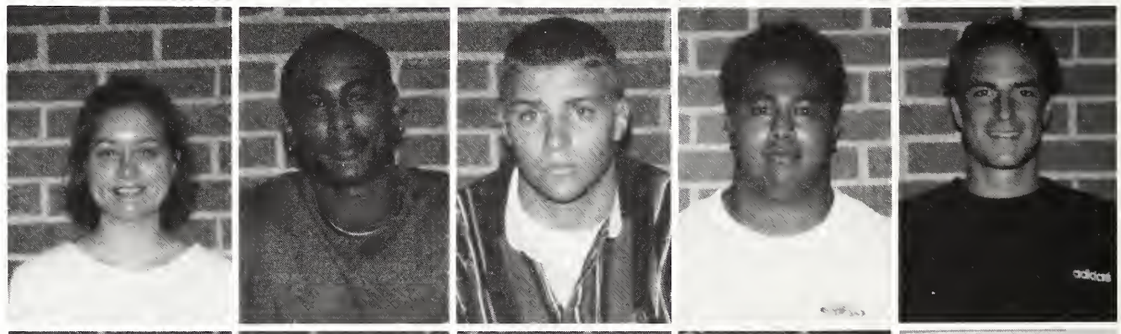
Nathan Stucky
Scott Stuhlsatz
Rachel Stutzman
Rodney Suter
Holly Sweatt

Edrick Sweeting
Kris Tarlton
Thomas Taylor
Vallery Thaw
Marcy Thiesen

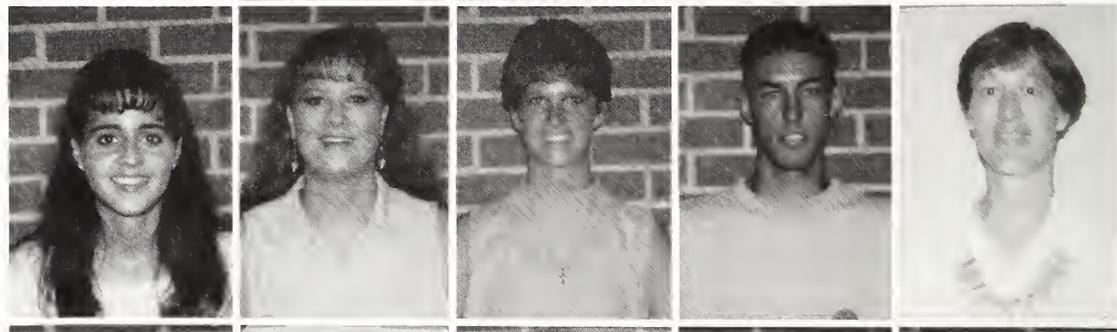
Loralee Thomas
Megan Thomas
Christopher Thompson
Sarah Thomsen
Melissa Tieszen

Katrina Toews
Sergio Torres
Lana Tovar
Mouy Tran
Russell Tribby

Heather Troyer
Marc Tucker
Jim Turney
Sione Tu'uhoko
Richard Tyrell

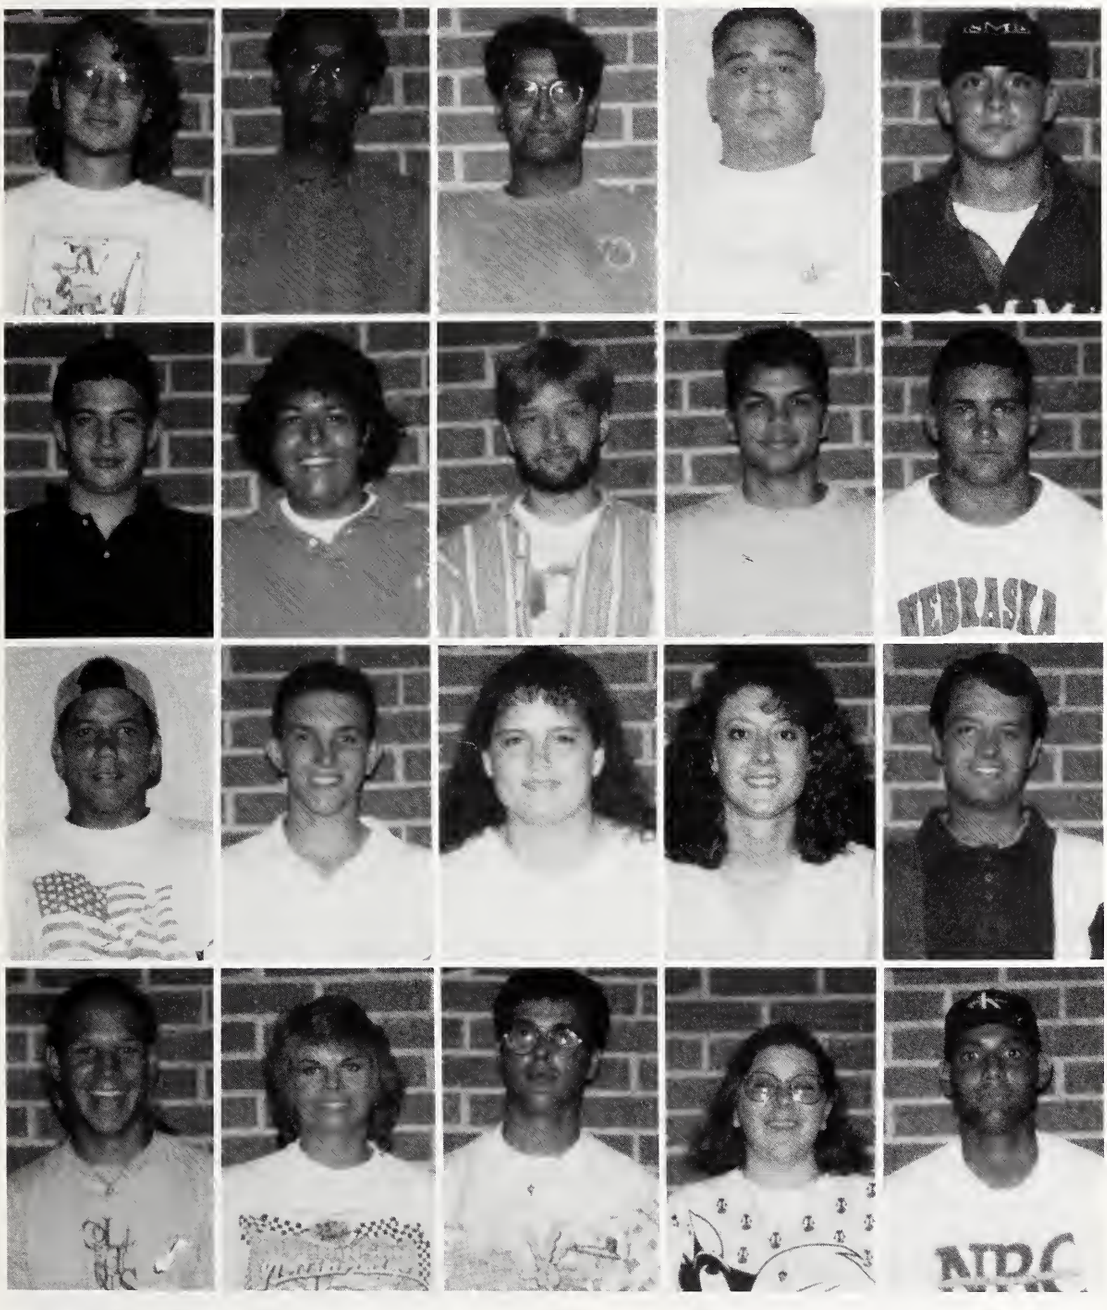


Amy Ulrich
Marne Ulrich
Arissa Unruh
Austin Unruh
Deborah Unruh



Jennifer Unruh
Matadi Unruh
Melissa Unruh
Nicole Unruh
Shanna Unruh

Things get mighty close during Fall Festival's Anything Goes.
(photo by Danielle Friesen)



Steven Unruh
Sekhar Vadlamani
Srikar Vadlamani
Anthony Valdez
Jordan Valgardson

Matthew Van Wingen
Krista Voth
Peter Waltner
Timothy Waltner
Chaed Ward

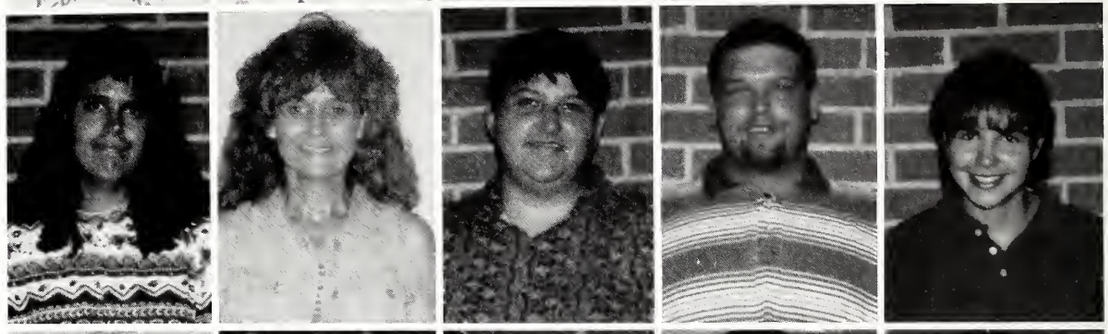
Jared Ward
Matthew Watkins
Sheri Weaver
Tracy Webb
Blake Wedel

Alex Weedin
Gay Welch
Kenneth Welch
Amanda West
Matt Westerman

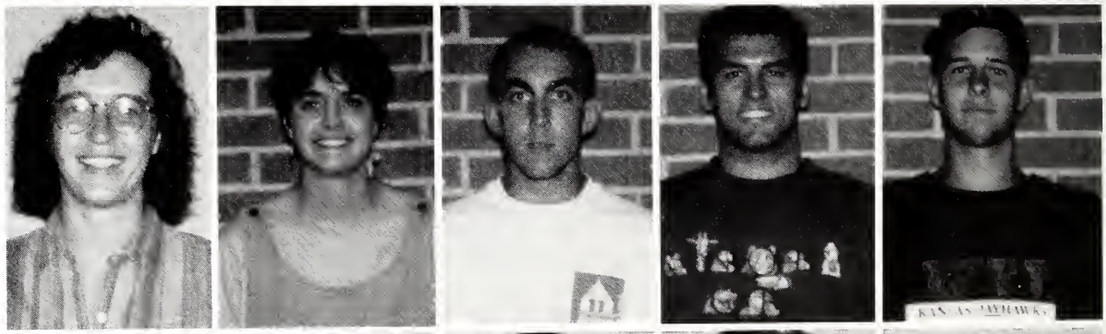
William Wiles
Marla Willems
Brant Wilson
Daniel Wilson
David Wilson

Kevin Winter
Timothy Wiseman
Matthew Wittmer
Jon Wood
Melanie Wright

Jane Wuthnow
Patricia Wyssmann
Stacy Yarnell
David Yoder
Andrea Yoder



Gwendolyn Yoder
Jennifer Yoder
Chad Young
Jon Zerger
Todd Zerger



Donald Ahrens
Fatima Ahrens
Jessica Arrellano
Brandon Barger
Mario Boschmann

Craig Branson
DeWayne Burch
Monica Claassen
Marie Corpe
Karma Duerksen

Some onlookers during Fall Festival's Anything Goes.
(photo by Cathy Schmidt)

Sharon Entz
Jenny Estrada
Chad Fuqua
Matt Goering
Laura Hansen

Liberty Haynes
James Hiebner
Stuart Isaac
Roger Keating
Carson Kermode

Linda King
Aaron Krehbiel
James Neff
Curtis Pack
Michelle Peters

Jennifer Reese
Andy Ruhl
Kolen Taylor
Sarah Weber
Danielle Friesen

Coming Next Year to Bethel College: a Preview of 1997-98 freshmen (the admissions department is really on the ball!)

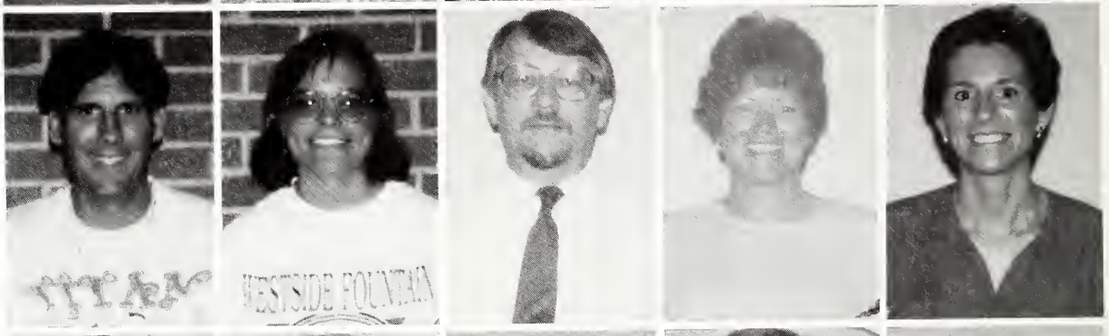
Roommates Annaken Toews and Sarah Kratzer.

Above: Sarah Koehn and Cori Lewellen; Right: Susan Gaeddert; Below: Erica Coulter

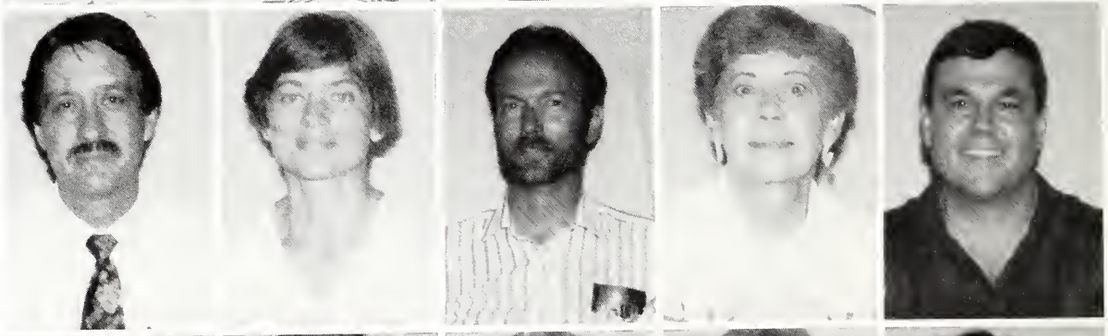
Andrea Schmidt Andres
Cyntha Bachofer
Julie Biesinger
Janlee Blosser
Lotti Boschmann

Lois Deckert
Verda Deckert
Rojean Dubois
Kevin Dyck
Diane Flickner

Troy Fowler
Kenna Frey
Rodney Frey
Karen Garcia
Janet Giesbrecht



Wynn Goering
Dorothy Goertz
Les Goerzen
Gladys Graber
Tony Graber



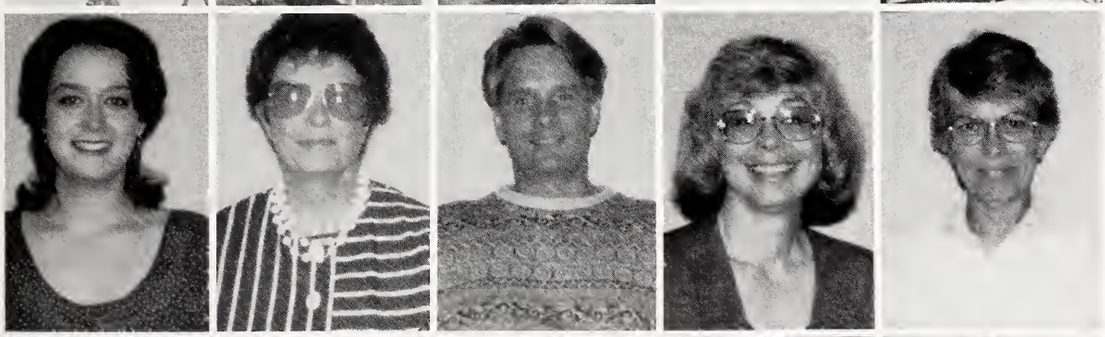
Joy Gustin
Ron Hargett
Marilyn Hatch
Wynona Haun
Lori Hein

Greta Hiebert
Scott Hoberg
Sara Hornecker
Arlo Kasper
Kathryn Kasper

President Douglas Penner

Shirley King
Richard Koontz
Merrill Krabill
Marla Krell
Rita Kunkel

Mike Lamb
Hope Lee
Marianna Llewelyn
John Mathias
Bev Mayer



Suzanne Matthews-Janzen
Dorothy Matthew
John McCabe-Juhnke
Carol Moore
Rosemary Moyer

Frank Nachtigal
Debra Nelson
Shirley Nienstedt
Kriesie Pankratz
Rachel Pannebecker

George Papageorgeau
Kaye Penner
Marles Preheim
Mike Ratzlaff
Bryan Reber

Ami Regier
Chuck Regier
Kathy L. Regier
Judy Reimer
Richard Rempel

George Rogers
Karen Schlabaugh
Merle Schlabaugh
Donovan Schmidt
Ilene Schmidt

Jane Schmidt
Kay Schmidt
Ruth Schmidt
Virgil Schmidt
Dale Schrag

Gregg Schroeder
Nancy Shear
John Sheriff
Randy Smith
Floyd Sowers

Leo Steider
Gail Stucky
Barb Thiesen
John Thiesen
Rob Thieszen

Tracy Tuttle
Allen Van Asselt
Bill Vandever
Larry Voth
Marge Warta

Brian Wiebe
Stan Wiens
Cindy Wulff
Mark Yoder
Scott Young

Richard Zerger
Sandra Zerger
Mary Regier

A Piece of Bethel Clubs

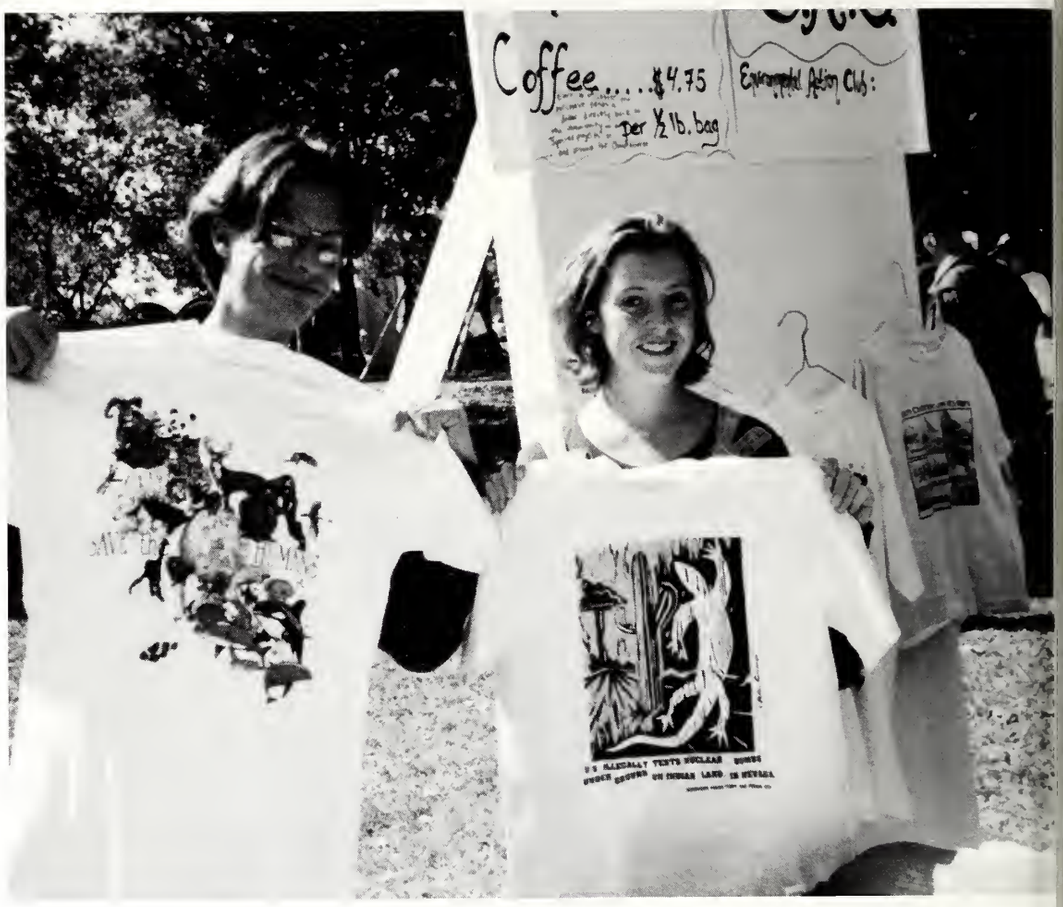
Environmental Action Club	100
Cheerleading	101
KBCU	102
International Club	104
Campus Ministries	105
Collegian	106
K-MENC	107
BC-Kans	108
Sappho	109
Amnesty International	110
Clio	111
Student Alumni Association	112
Rhythm Squad	113
Peace Club	114
Circle-K	115
Scan	116
Conflict Management	117
Debate and Forensics	118
M - 2	119

Service Corps

Cheerleaders

Kayak Club

Environmental Action Club



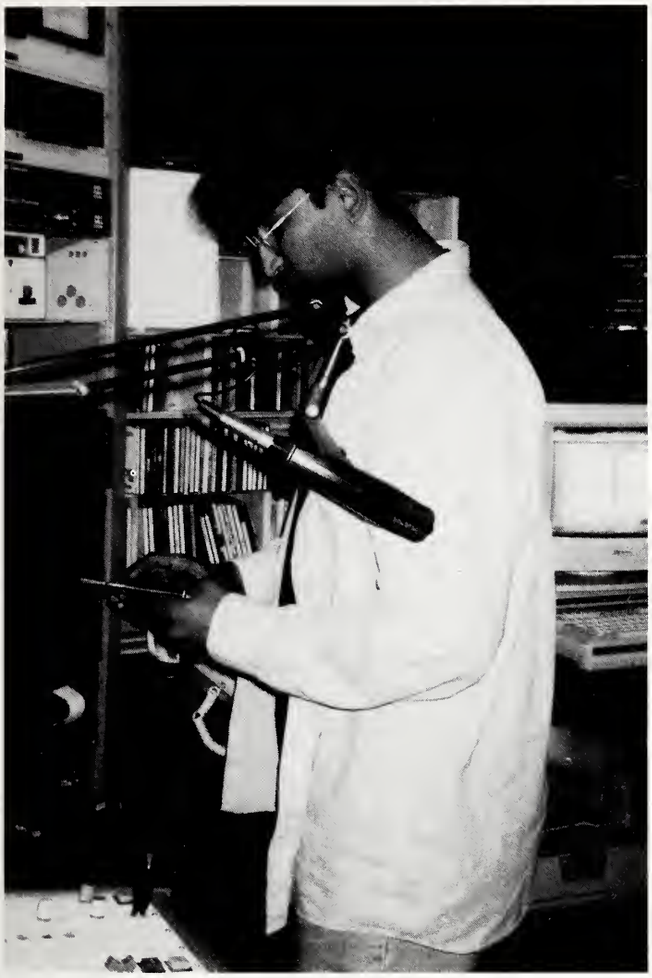
Rachel Stutzman and David Andrew Kaufman model the t-shirts EAC sold during Fall Festival.

Cheerleading

1995-96 cheerleaders included Amy Shurtz, Larissa Asher, Andrea Freeburne and Alison Schmidt

KBCU 88.1

TAKING PART IN THE VOICE ON CAMPUS DURING 1995-96 WERE: (Back Row) Bryan Reber, Matt Pankratz, (Third Row) Daniel Macias, Karl Kroeker, Eric Jantzen, Willmar Harder, Matt Milton, Steven Obold, (2nd Row) Bryn Griben, Tammy Duvanel Unruh, Mark Fretz, Alison M. Schmidt, Kelly Mick, Tom Taylor, Darin Driscoll, (Front Row) Melanie Burke, Kerry Saner, Sarah Thomsen, David Alan Kaufman, David Andrew Kaufman



International Club

The International Student Club provides a place where Bethel's international students find a supportive social network. New international students develop relationships through the club which help them in their adjustment to a new culture.

The club stimulates global awareness on campus with activities such as the Fall Festival food booth featuring cuisine from other countries. During the fall semester the group presents an international convocation.

The club has no restrictions on membership. Any student may join and learn to know the diversity of an international world.

Often the global awareness extends to the community as club members speak to civic groups, church organizations, nursing homes or local schools.

Each international student who wishes is assigned a Friendship Family, someone from the community who can provide a home away from home. Once each semester, the students and their friendship families as well as all club members join each other for a potluck and conversation.

The club meets twice a month for business and discussion, and for social interaction. A president and a secretary preside over the meetings.

Lois Deckert

International Club members serve up food at Fall Festival.

Campus Ministries

The 1995-96 Campus Ministries Team included (Back Row) Monica Claassen, Melissa Tieszen, David Wilson, Kathy Harder, Randy Smith, Chris Phillippe, Dale Schrag, (Front Row) Sydney Stigge, Patty Shelley, Kerry Saner

It's Wednesday night creeping into Thursday morning and everything on campus is dark, motionless except for a bright light emerging through a wall of windows on the north side of the Fine Arts Center. Looks like it's Collegian deadline again.

Although this description isn't unique to the 1995-96 Collegian, some top stories are. Headline highlights include: "Local man linked to assault of former student: Hesston resident arrested in McPherson" and "Women's soccer team wins debut game: Lady Threshers beat York 2-0" in issue 1.

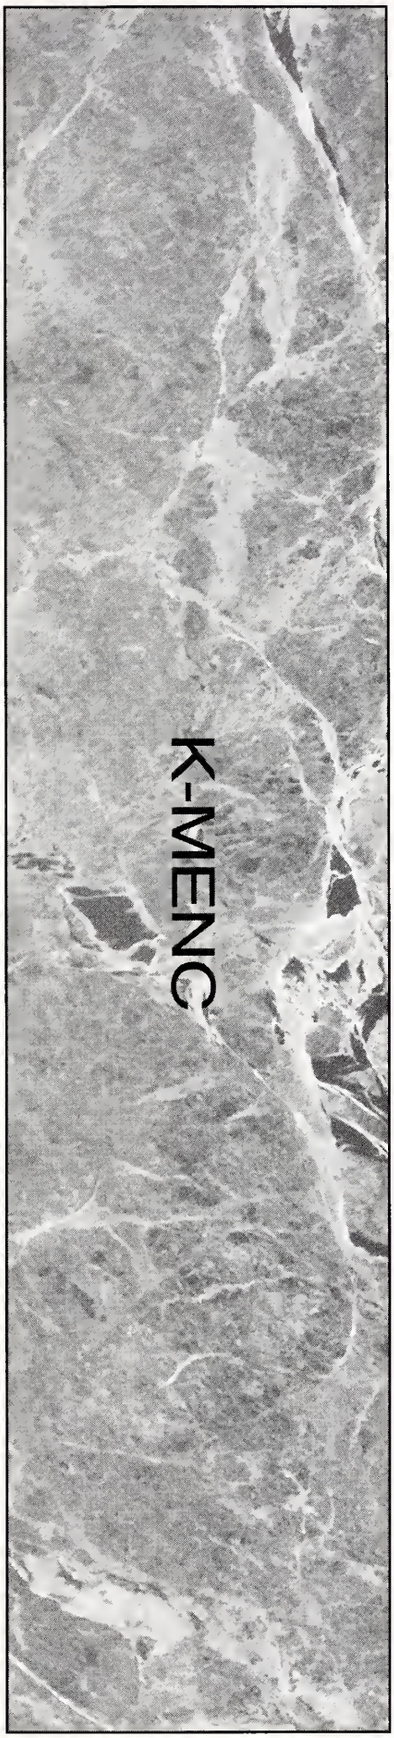
Attempting to keep up with quick-changing publication design trends, the 1995-96 Collegian staff made major changes in layout and design. The front page design most noticeable changed. The flag, or the heading of the paper reading "The Bethel Collegian," switched from a simple capitalized font to a classic script typeface. A feature photo, or a photograph that is run without a story, became a fixture on the front page. Througout the paper, mug shots, or small "head-and-shoulder shots" frequently ran with stories. In addition to frong page changes, revisions were made in the text of headlines, stories and captions.

Also in a constant shift was the paper's editorial staff. Editor-in-chief Laurie Guhr was replaced by Alissa Randa the second semester and Kathy Harder replaced Ross Musselman as the opinion/editorial editor. Kirsten Blosser took the place of Matt Pankratz as features editor and Melanie Burke replaced Leah Martisko the second semester as advertising manager. Editors for the entire year included Heather Esau as sports editor, Alissa Randa as news editor and Audrey Hodgson as business manager. Staff writers were expected to change with the semester, as most writers were members of the semester-long journalism workshop class.

The 12 issues published this year provided campus news, a written campus forum and hands-on training for print journalism students.

Alissa Randa

The Bethel College chapter of K-MENC (Music Educators National Conference) provided a forum for music education majors to share concerns related to their field of study and a basis for keeping in contact with developments in their future professions. Led by choral professor Marles Preheim, the group gathered for monthly meetings over tasty Mariott dinners to discuss educational and organizational issues, and were also on occasion held hostage for tense moments following Concert Choir rehearsal for instruction concerning orders of business. Several Bethel music education graduates and those Bethelite music ed majors involved in student teaching during the 1995-96 school year were given the opportunity to share about their experiences in the classroom. A number of K-MENC members gave an informal report of their attendance at the conference of the K-MENC held in Kansas City. Support for the worthiness and excitement of the call to be a music educator was generally shared among Bethel MENC members. One belonging to K-MENC 1995-96 would have been sure to find fulfillment in the air of brotherly love pervading the ranks as well as in the music educators journlas each member was saturated with throughout the course of the year.



BC-KANS

BC-KANS (Bethel College-Kansas Association of Nursing Students) is an organization of nursing students on our campus for the purpose of representing the interests and concerns of student nurses, nursing as a profession, and development of students into the role of the professional nurse with a sense of responsibility for health care of people in all walks of life.

The organization relates to the state KANS group and the National Student Nurses Association. Through our own chapter and these larger organizations we are able to influence future nursing practice. One or two students usually attend at least one national conference every year.

Verda Deckert

Taking blood pressures is one of BC-KANS most frequent and favorite community projects. Dale Schrag looks like he's loving it.

Sappho is a club on campus named after the female poet. As a club, we seek and promote dialogue and action on women's issues. We encourage women and men to engage in conversation regarding these issues. Sappho commonly prepares a convocation intended to bring women's concerns to a public surface. This year, we worked on this convocation with a theme of women's image across generations. We also raised funds for a women's shelter in Wichita and worked together on creating a definition of sexual harassment, to be included in a packet provided for first-year students. Most importantly, we provide a time and place for women to be celebrated and to recognize the struggle behind us and awaiting us. Our call is to appreciate the women before us who have provided what we have and to continue the movement of women toward complete equality. "We solemnly vow that there should never be another season of silence until we have the same rights everywhere on this green earth."

Katie Chappell

(Back Row) Gretchen Kehrberg, Rachel Stutzman, Katie Chappell, ErinScott, Katrina Toews, (Second Row) Jennifer Chappell, Rachel Epp, Amiee Leisy, (Front Row), Bryn Gribben, Sara Weber

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is an international organization that promotes and fights for human rights. Bethel's group #323 works for people whose rights have been infinged upon. The main activity is writing letters. The group receives information from the international organization about different cases and then writes numerous letters to the government officials in question, the United States government and the prisoners themselves.

Every spring they hold their annual wirte-a-thon which is open to all students and staff willing to write letters.

"It's nice to help people at a distance," said Brad Quiring, a member of the group. "I doubt I'll ever meet any of these people but if people need help, I'm glad if I can help them."

Amnesty International Group #323 sit at the Fall Festival booth, promoting issues related to human rights.

Deriving its name from the muse of history, Clio gathers for a variety of activities throughout the year. The club is advised by Drs. Jim Juhnke and Keith Sprunger. Ross Musselman II was elected president, Darla Sprinkle was named secretary-treasurer and Shasta Schmidt and Jen Stoll were named as committee members.

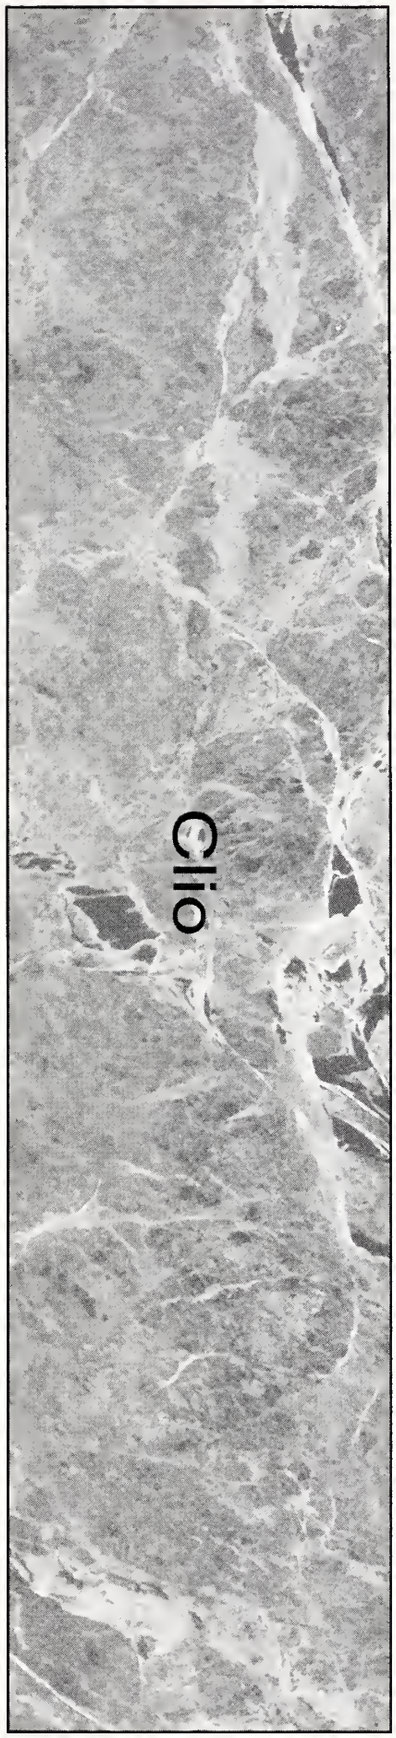
Menno Simons made his second appearance at Clio's Fall Festival booth. Festival goers enjoyed having their picture taken with the life-size painting. Clio's annual halloween party asks members to come as their favorite historical character or event. A highlight was Keith and Aldine Sprunger disguising themselves as gargoyles from the Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris. The evening ended with an enjoyable game of Trivial Pursuit.

Another highlight for members of Clio was a trip to Topeka to visit the Tresures of the Tzars exhibit. Several students piled into a van with Keith Sprunger to see the traveling exhibit.

Also enjoyable aspects of Clio are the annual spring picnics at Sprungers.

As always, ONWARD WITH CLIO.

Tammy Sawatzky, with Tom Taylor and Brad Quiring



Student Alumni Association

The Student Alumni Association (SAA) board worked on developing the board's constitution, as well as promoting the pride of the college through planned events throughout the year.

SAA was involved in co-sponsoring Parent's Day on campus during Fall Festival, playing an active role in sponsoring the tailgate BBQ rally for parents and students. A major addition to the Fall Fest activities was the first bonfire rally held on Friday night. Additional events sponsored by SAA included Christmas Dinner, Career Night, Parent/Family weekend, Grandparent's Day, Student Leadership Banquet, Senior Week and MudSlam Volleyball.

The 45 members made this year's SAA board the largest since SAA's establishment in 1989.

Rhythm Squad

The 1995-96 Bethel College Rhythm Squad, originally formed under the leadership of Heidi (Greenwood) Doell in 1992, performed again this year under the leadership of Tina Doell, senior from Henderson, Neb., and Tara Friesen, also a senior from Henderson.

This performance dance squad was chosen by audition to work as a team under the leadership of the organizational leaders. They were chosen on the basis of their leadership, team spirit, creativity and energy, as well as for demonstrating skill, stamina and coordination.

As was the goal of the original squad, this year's Rhythm Squad sought to elevate the spirit of Bethel College students and community as well as to provide spirited entertainment during half-times of men's and women's athletic games and at Taste of Newton, Fall Festival and other promotioinal events. The group earned money to pay for uniforms by operating a dunk booth and cotton candy booth at Fall Festival.

Gretchen Gering

Peace Club

This year's Peace Club made and sold tie-dyed t-shirts at Fall Festival.

The Circle K International Blub of Bethel College was charted in March 1984 under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club of Newton. Circle K of Bethel has been very active in community service activities since its beginning and is one of the stronger Circle K Clubs in Kansas.

Circle K International in Action:

Special Olympics

Children's Miracle Network Phonathon

Adopt-A-Grandparent

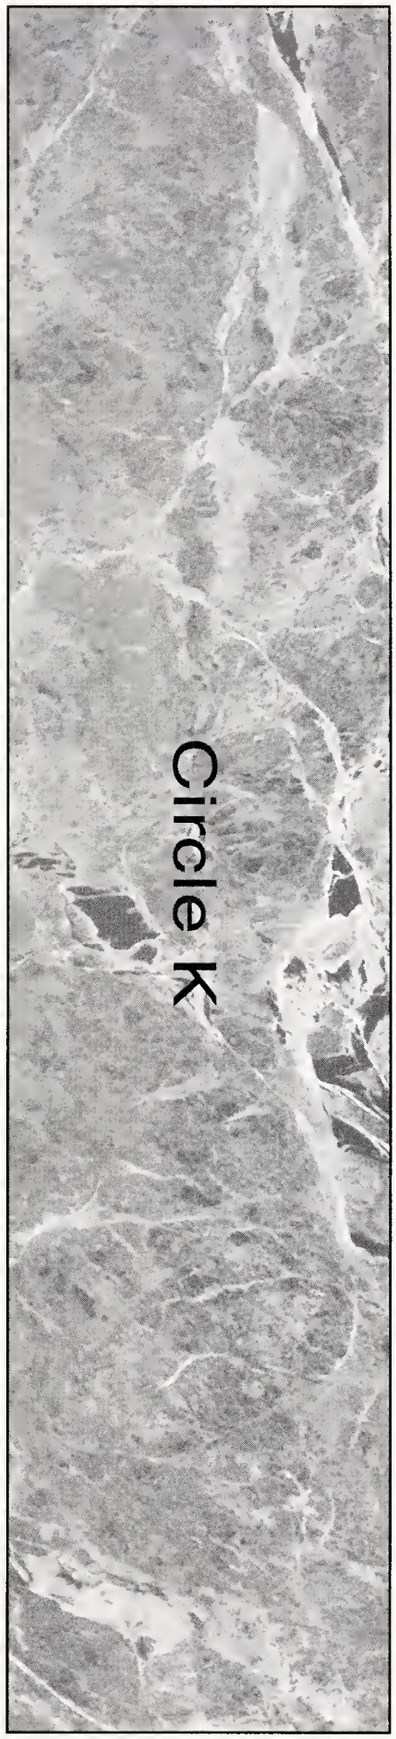
Highway Clean-up

Big Brothers Big Sisters

Life Olympics

Hospital Halloween Visit

President	Honey Daugherty
Vice President	Melissa Schrag
Secretary	Meniza Bannister
Treasurer	Becky Klassen
Faculty Advisor	Merrill Krabill
Kiwanis Advisors	Harold Moyer, Vern Jantz



It's the Mennonite Central Committee on a smaller scale, with an emphasis on aiding the less fortunate, and it's located right here on the Bethel College campus.

The Student Committee Action Network (SCAN) is a student-run organization providing Bethel students with volunteer opportunities ranging from working with troubled adolescents to aiding the community through various odd jobs.

"Our primary function is to be a connection between people who are in need of volunteers and those who want to volunteer. The club acts as a facilitator between the two," explains SCAN's co-coordinator Kirsten Blosser, freshman from Hesston.

One such connection is the blood drive that SCAN co-sponsors with the American Red Cross.

"This is a perfect opportunity to touch many lives in a short amount of time. Giving blood is the most common of all organ donations," Blosser said. "If people prefer not to or are not able to donate blood, there are many other ways they can help."

To encourage participation, the resident assistants, in cooperation with SCAN and the Red Cross, set up a competition among Bethel students, based on a point system. The hall with the most points receives a free pizza party.

In addition to the blood drive, SCAN sends students to volunteer at Youthville, either with residents or in various administrative offices.

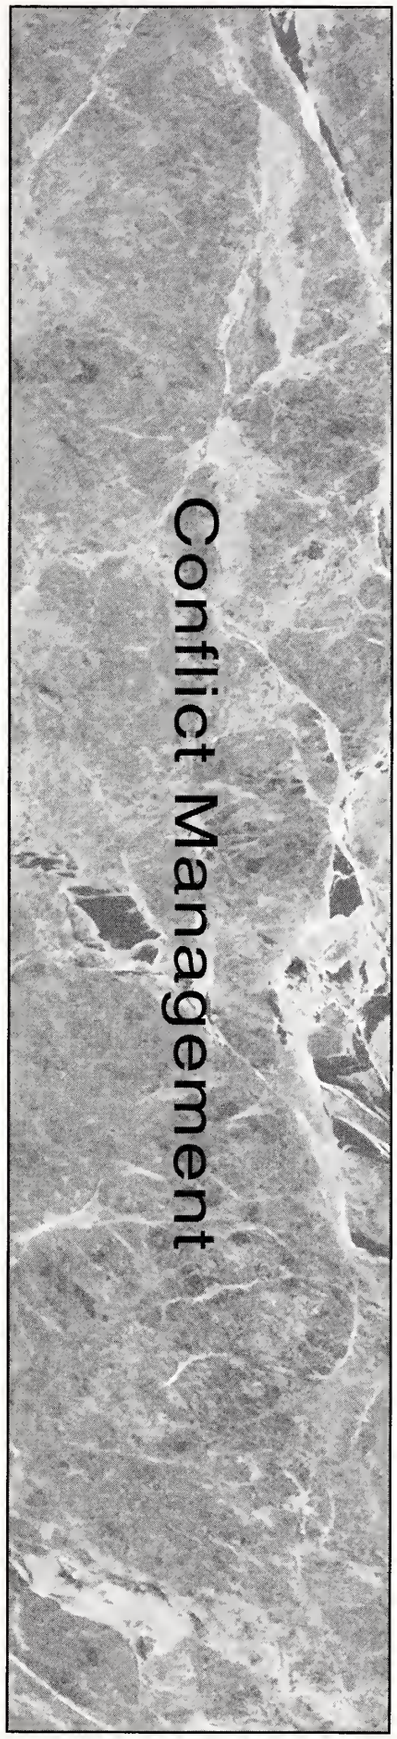
It is not uncommon for SCAN to be contacted with individual requests. One example is a student volunteer to be an exercise partner for a mentally handicapped person.

For some, especially college students, time can be a major factor in the decision to volunteer. SCAN stresses the availability of short-term positions, as well as longer, more permanent openings.

—adopted from the Oct. 27, 1995 Collegian article by Kim Roberts

Conflict affects relationships in our everyday life whether at school, work, home, or in the community. While conflict can take a constructive or destructive course, it is usually perceived to be destructive. Disagreements can, however, often open lines of communication, uncover buried issues and ultimately set the stage for constructive dialogue, personal growth and creative solutions.

The mission of Bethel Conflict Management Services is to provide nonviolent and cooperative alternatives in times of conflict, through two programs: Peer Mediation Services and Dialogue Groups.



1995-96 Peer Mediators

Katie Chappell

Walter Holmes

Jessica Phillips

Jennifer Chappell-Deckert

J.P. McKay

Angela Muhuri

Micah Myron

David Wilson

Forensics and Debate

The Bethel Forensics and Debate squad had an active year traveling to seventeen tournaments in seven states. The Parliamentary debaters routinely advanced to elimination rounds, closing out the final round of debate at the Wichita State University tournament in October, and placing second at the Pi Kappa Delta Tri-Province Tournament at WSU in March. Bethel Debaters Tom Taylor and Ross Musselman advanced to trile-octofinals at the National Parliamentary Debate Association Championship Tournament in Houston.

1995-96 was a successful year for individual events competitors as well, who garnered 3rd place team sweepstakes awards at the WSU tournament and at the Central Missouri State tournament in March. Bryn Gribben, Dianna Peters and Ross Musselman combined forces to win the Top Small School Sweepstakes award at the Kansas Individual Events Championships at Kansas Newman College in February. Bryn, Ross and Dianna also qualified a total of eleven events for the American Forensics Association National Tournament at the University of Florida in April. This year marked the nineteenth consecutive year for Bethel's participation in AFA nationals—a record shared by only seven other schools in the nation.

—John McCabe-Juhnke

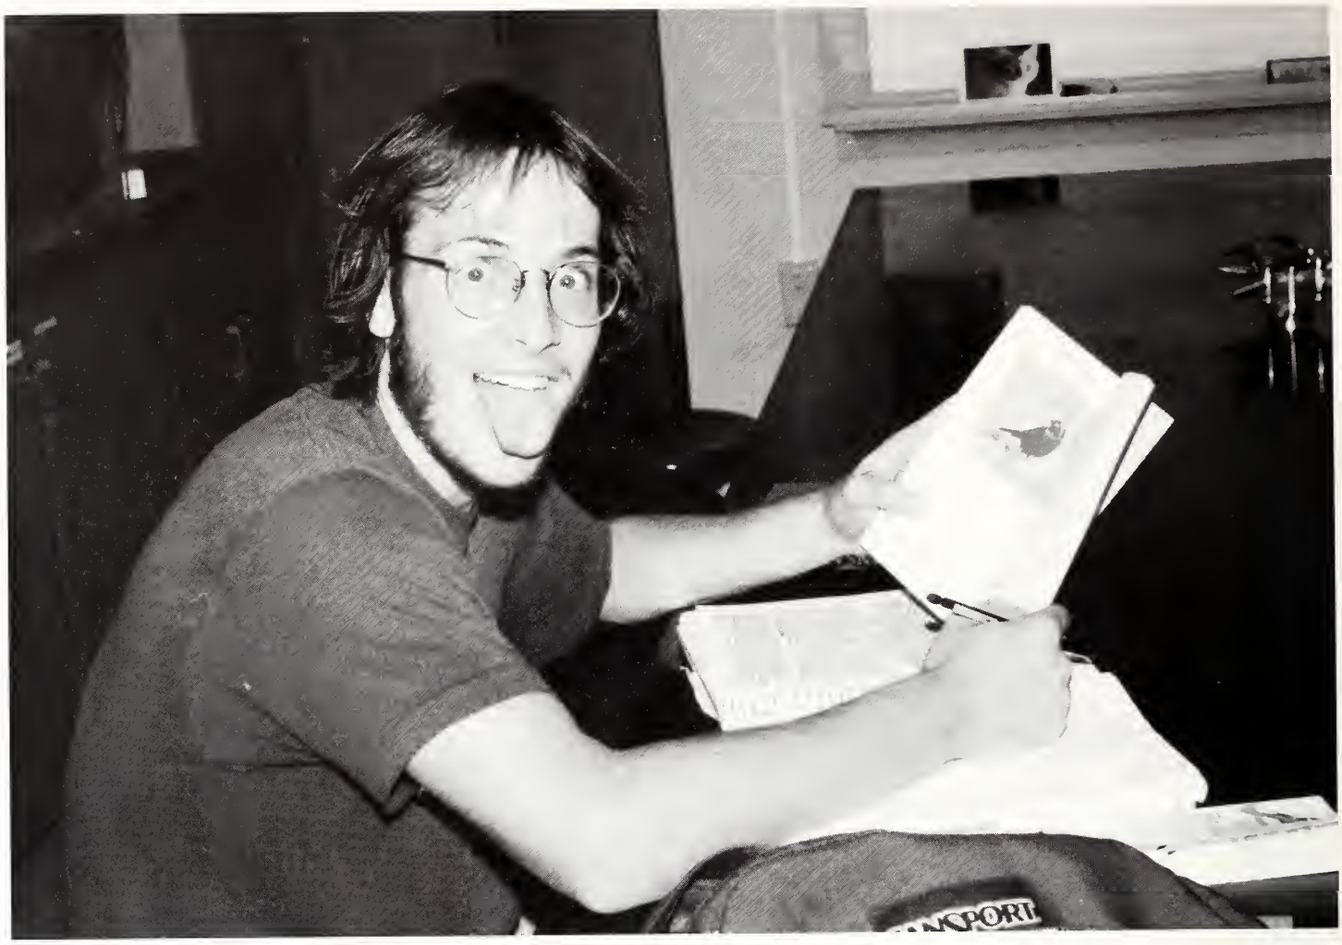
ABOVE: On the road to Nationals, Dianna Peters, Bryn Gribben, Tammy Duvanel Unruh, Ross Musselman II, Bryan Rber and John McCabe-Juhnke pose in front of their airplane. Nationals were held in Gainsville, Fla.

LEFT: John McCabe-Juhnke, Ross Musselman, Tammy Duvanel-Unruh, Bryn Gribben and Dianna Peters were found taking a break on the beach during a break from the National Forensics Tournament in Florida.

M-2 Prison Ministries

TOP: Penny Frey and Kirsten Blosser discuss proper procedure and etiquette for M-2.

BOTTOM: Kirsten and Penny go over some business concerning the M-2 program.



Matt Krehbiel is not taking this seriously.

Art Department

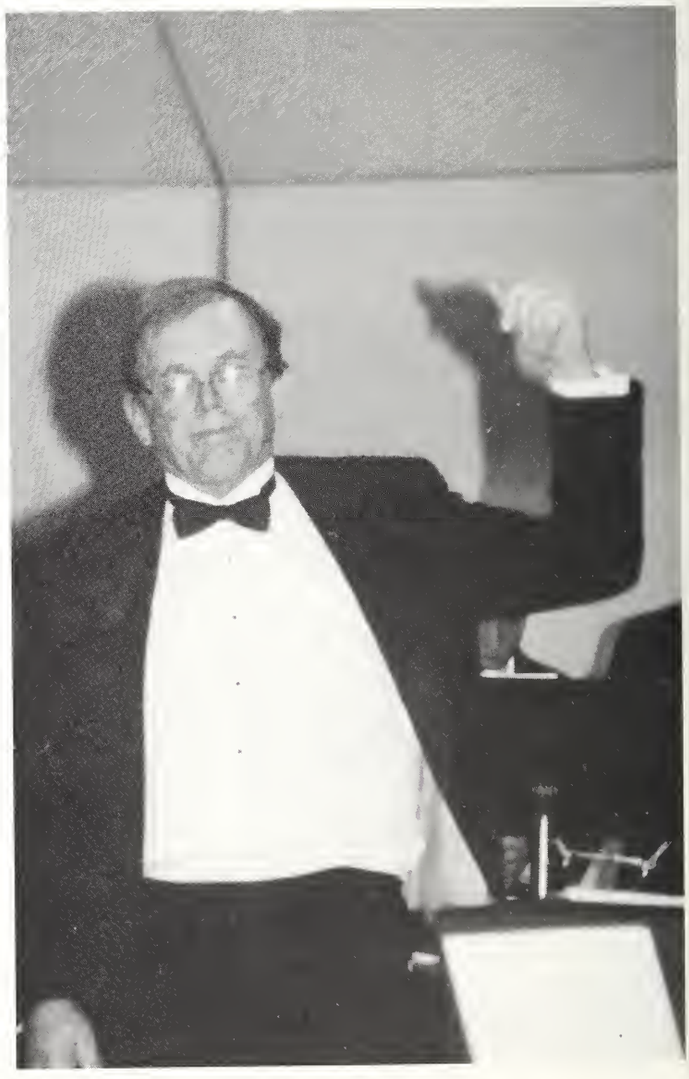
RIGHT: Sarah Thomsen works on her art project.

BOTTOM: Jerod Morris finishes his clay jar.

Sinfonia

ABOVE: Kerry Saner and Esther Kratzer rehearse for their quartet number.

RIGHT: Don Kehrberg finishes another fine performance.



RIGHT: Brian Huxman and Koji Hayakawa work on their duet.

BELOW: Brian Wiebe helps rehearse the string quartet.

LEFT: The Jazz Band is conducted by Brian Wiebe at Fall Festival.

BELOW: Chris King and Kirsten Blosser play in the wind ensemble.

Concert Choir

What better way to spend Spring Break than with 49 fellow Bethel students, traveling through nine states, totaling over 3,000 miles or 60 hours by bus?

"It doesn't get any better than this!" beamed a delighted Dale Schrag, coordinator of the choir tour, at 6 a.m. as the charter bus left Bethel heading east.

The Bethel College Concert Choir, directed by Marles Preheim, and Camerata Musica, directed by Brian Wiebe and assisted by Shirley King, performed at twelve Mennonite churches and high schools in such heavily Menno-concentrated areas as Goshen/Elkhart, Indiana, Kirdon, Ohio, and Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The choir was often escorted by Bethel President Doug Penner and Raylene Hinz-Penner, as they were traveling on a similar route speaking on behalf of the college. Students were privileged to spnd several evenings with host families, offereing choir members enriching connections and experiences with Bethel supporters and alumni. Some choir members were also engaged in such questionalbe activities as hottubbing, snowball fights, sledding and more. Potluch dinners and courtesy sack lunches were also endearing treasures for the Marriott-deprived students. But the final destination point—New York City and the Broadway Strip—was the apex of the tour, as students were able to take a break from performing and instead sit in the audience for a change.

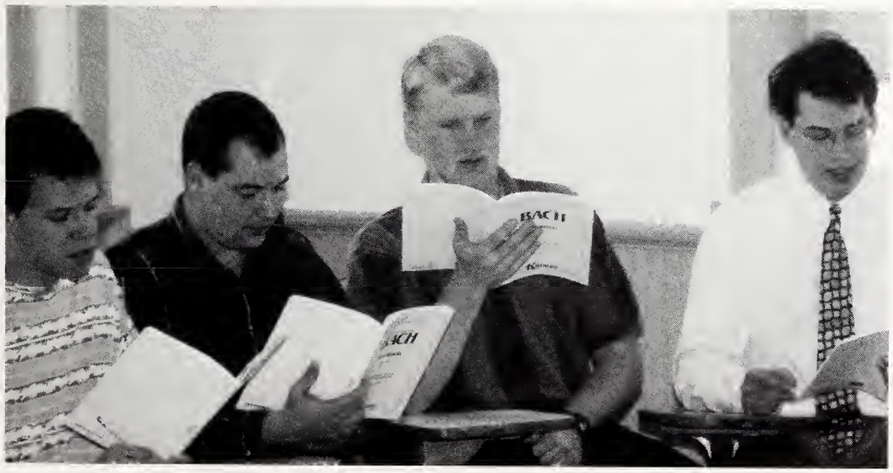
—by Sydney Stigge

ABOVE: Melinda Leritz, Sydney Stigge and Nicole Unruh practice in choir.

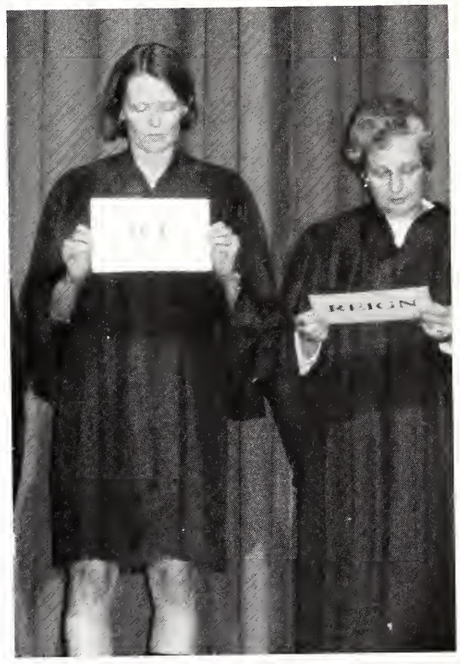
ABOVE: Marles Preheim rehearses the men.

LEFT: Ethan King, Chris Blosser and Eric Schrag practice in sectionals.

BOTTOM LEFT: Allen Krehbiel, Gary Buller, Wilmar Harder and Matt Pankratz practice the bass part.



Faculty Follies



Threshers

Threshers

Spring Fling

Halloween

Extra-Curricular Music

Work Day

Spring Break—San Antonio

The 1996 Spring Break Service Trip to San Antonio was a great time! The group stayed at La Casa de Maria y Marta in San Antonio, which is run by Mennonite Board of Missions. During the week, the group of Bethel students and Randy Smith worked with Alternative Housing, which restores houses in need of repair so tha they can provide decent housing for lower income people. The group also took time for sight seeing and relaxation.

LEFT: Adrienne Gard dons the big orange gloves.

BELOW: Tammy Sawatzky, Kathy Harder and Libby Schrag try a new style of hammering.

ABOVE: The construction sight for the week.

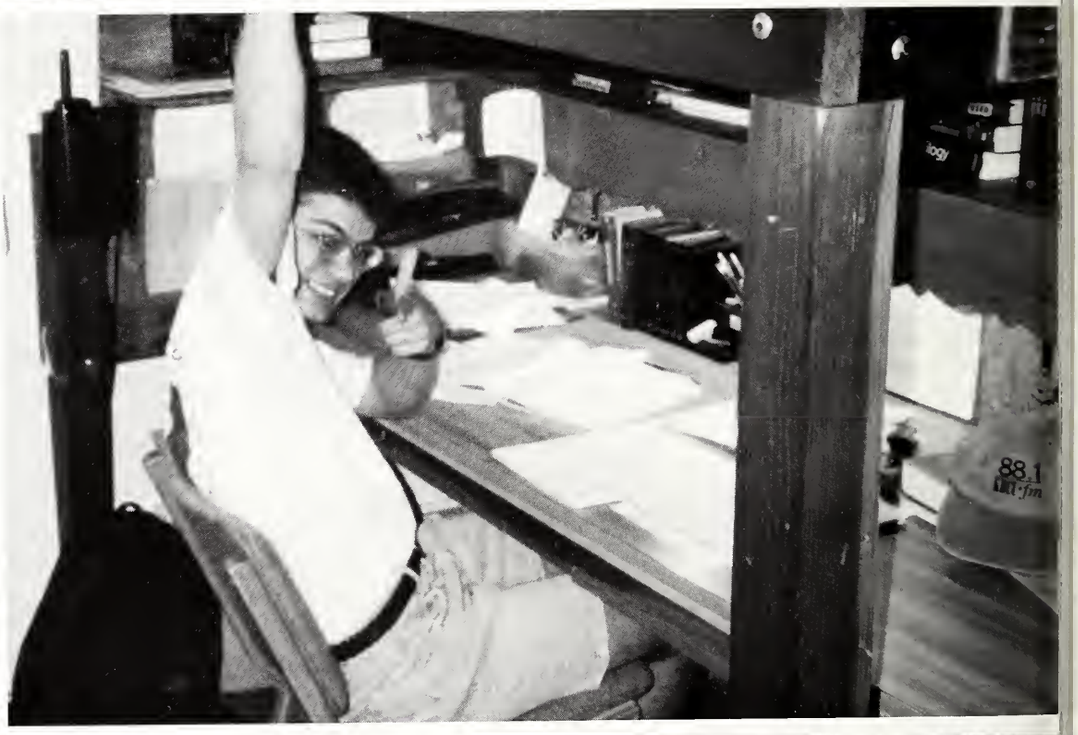
FAR LEFT: Kathy Harder and Angela Farris try their hands at a little fence post digging.

LEFT: Matt Krehbiel shows how big and strong he is.

BELOW: The tuckered-out and sun-burned workers sit down for supper.

Highlight on Mod 9C

Studying with Mod 9C



Moving out with Mod 9C

Sleeping with Mod 9C

Sleeping with Service Corps

Ads Should Have
Been on This Page

Index Should Have
Been on This Page

Autographs Can Still Go on This Page

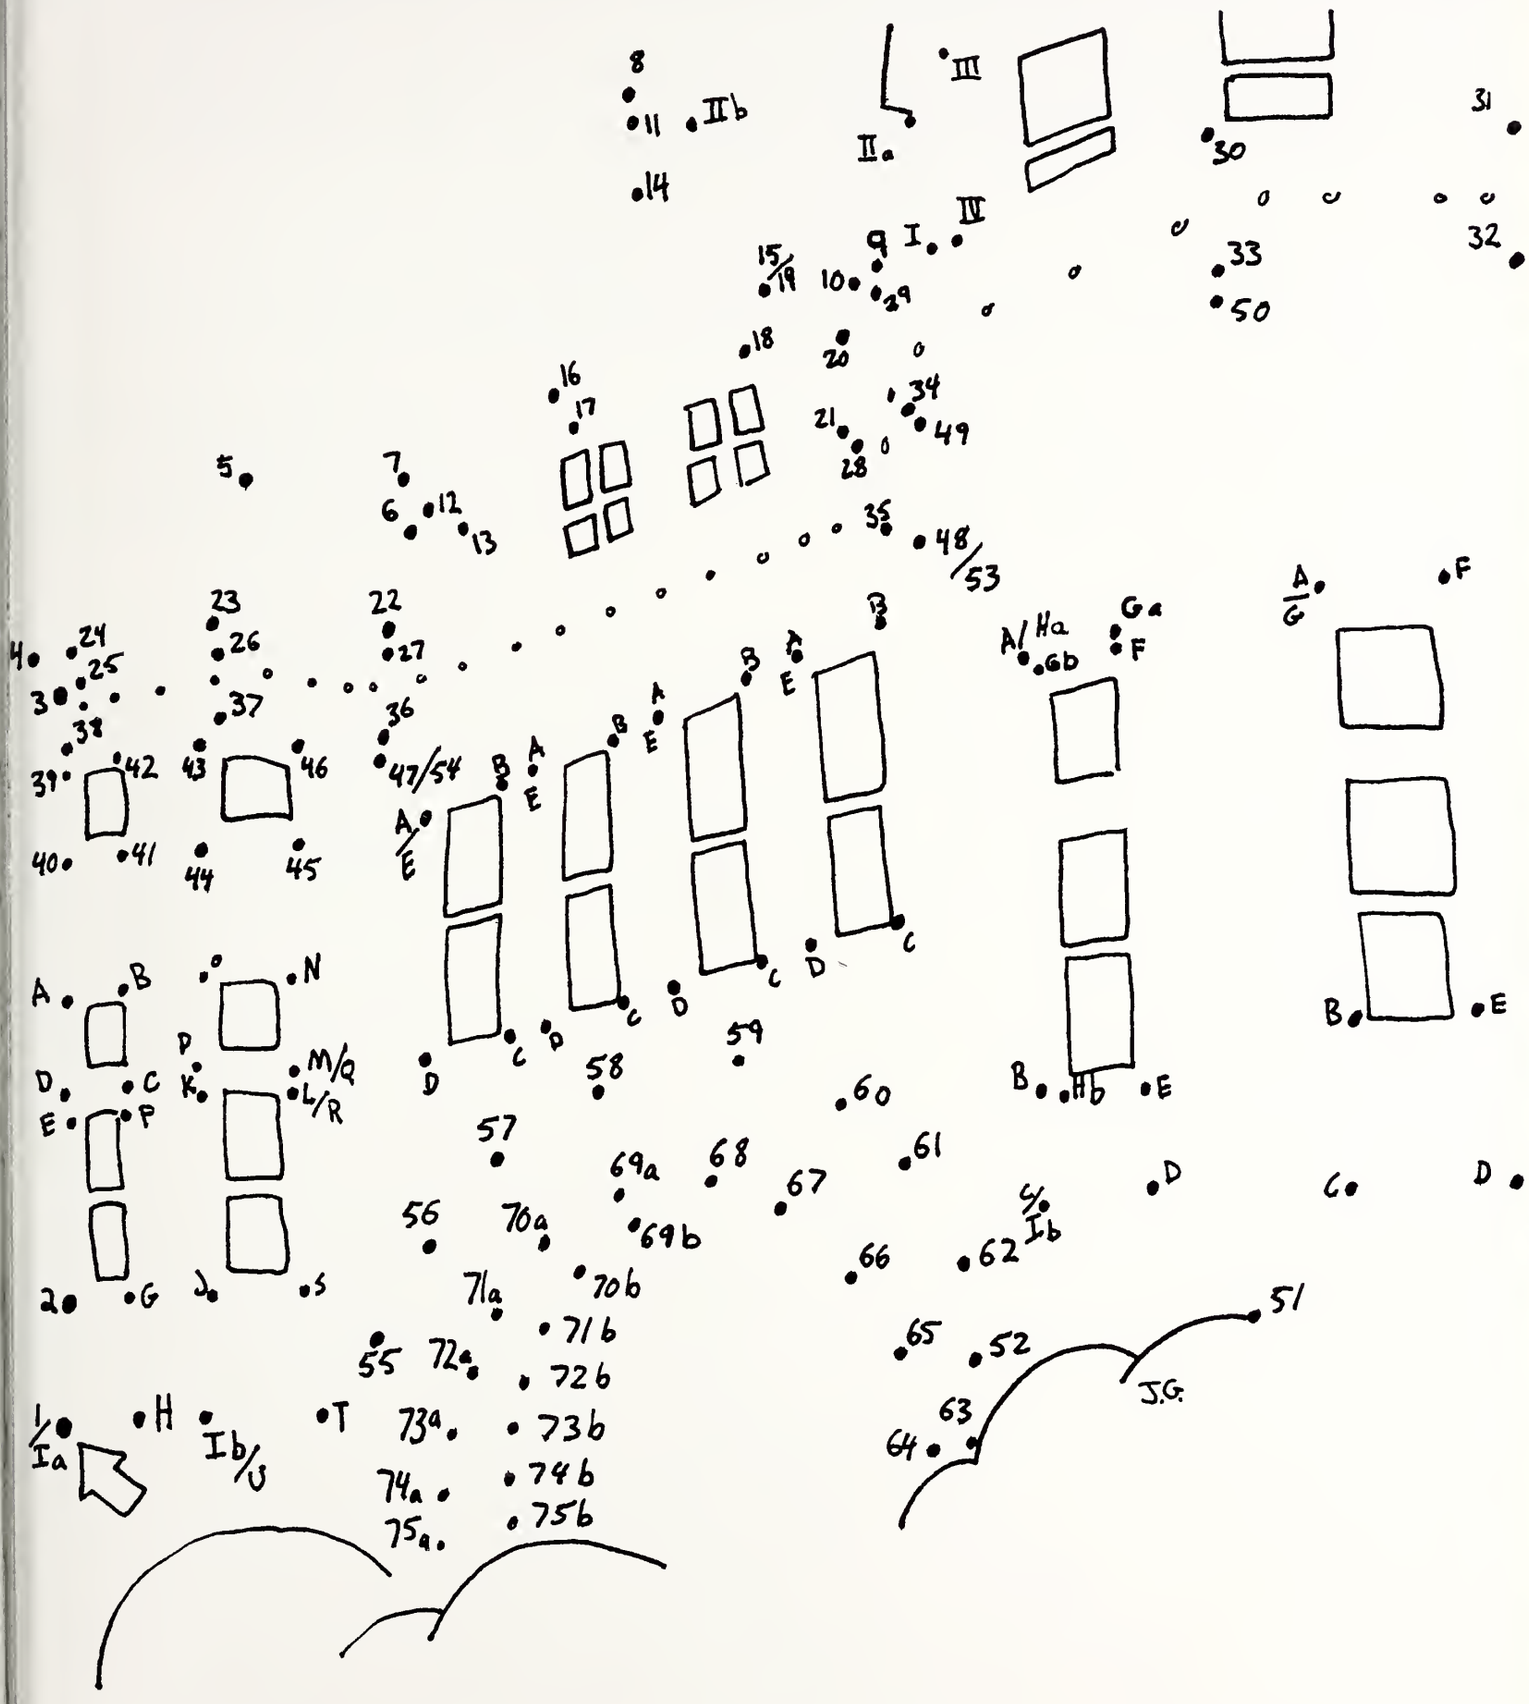
Complete This Dot-to-Dot and you might win.



And so you have reached the end of the 1996 yearbook. The theme of the yearbook is ironically appropriate as this book has had quite the history. Here's a piece of the 1996 Yearbook:

- 1995-96: Darla Sprinkle is editor-in-chief; who knows who the rest of the staff is; Ms. Sprinkle graduates with twenty-some pages done never to be seen or heard from again

- 1996-97: Jen Stoll becomes editor-in-chief of the 1997 book and reluctently says she'll also finish up the '96 book; by the end of the year neither the 1997 or the 1996 are finished; Senate gets concerned; there is talk of trying to get Darla Sprinkle in court...?; the year ends with still no books done but some senators say they'll help get material to fill the mostly empty pages of the 1996 book; no one does.

- 1997-98: Jen Stoll starts off the year as the editor-in-chief of both the still unfinished 1997 and the new 1998; Stoll refuses to mess with the 1996 anymore; Senator Roy Cornett heads up a lobby to kill the 1996 yearbook completely but fails to make it to the meeting on time so the 1996 book lives on; Senate conducts a survey of upperclassmen on campus on whether they should finish the book and decide that the desire is there to get a book from that year; Scott Toerber is hired as the new editor and Senator Sarah Kratzer is the overseer; Kratzer meets Roger Keating, a 1996 graduate; Keating agrees to take on the monumentous task; Keating doesn't get it done by the end of 1998; Keating promises to get the book done over the summer.

- 1998-99: Keating has done nothing with the book; Keating promises to get it done by some other date; Kratzer takes it back; Kathy Harder, former editor-in-chief of the Collegian, senior English major, and Quark expert, enters the entire book in to the computer in a span of three weeks; the photos are cropped, photo stickers put on, pages edited...; the 1996 book is completed.

As a senior in high school when the students of the 1995-96 year were making Pieces of History here at Bethel College, I can only hope that this book captures some of the memories. I apologize for the extreme lateness of this book because the people responsible for the delay are not willing or unable to. It is reassuring to know that the memories from that historic year have not and will not be affected by this book, its date of release, or quality - it is merely icing on the cake. And now, with great joy (and a big old sigh of relief), I present to you:

Pieces of History

—Sarah Kratze